

ACHS to see $8 million in renovations

Plan is to prepare building for 2,000 students expected at the turn-of-the century

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

In three sparsely attended meetings, Antioch Community High School officials explained how they will spend $8 million to transform 80-year old building parts into a first-rate education center for 2,000 students expected in the year 2002.

"We need to make some plans so the school doesn't become overcrowded," said Superintendent Dr. Dennis Hockney, as he introduced the program about modernization plans and strategies.

Before a second high school is built to serve the district's student population, the school board, according to Hockney "had to take the first initiative and upgrade our current campus." He said the goal is to "bring it up to date to handle about 2,000 students and be the kind of school that was not looked at as second-rate compared to a new school."

"We are in the process now of creating a master plan for that purpose. We will, in the near term, be doing some additions, some remodeling to bring it up to speed. So that is what we are going to talk about tonight," said Hockney.

In terms of paying for the reconstruction, "I get to give you the good news," said District 117 Business Manager Bill Ahlers. "No tax increase. Yet."

"The district expects to fund the work through internal operations using a bonding instrument called a certificate of participation. "What we have pledged is a certain number of cents of our tax levy, which is coming out of our operating fund, to pay (the bonding instruments) off," Ahlers said.

Hockney and Ahlers set forth the rationale for a three-year construction program with the aid of three consultants.

Trustees hear housing woes

Renter charges discrimination, management claims just following Section 8 rules

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

"We come tonight asking to be heard as residents of Oak Ridge Court," said Shannon Blakeman, of Oak Ridge Village Apartments.

Her statement came at the very end of Monday evening's village board meeting.

"We feel we are being discriminated (against) and harassed by management," she explained further. She said she spoke for others who were not able to be present.

At the end of a long meeting of citizen and developer contention on a unrelated zoning issue, the entire village board and its attorney, Kenneth Clark, paused to hear her out.

"We have an unethical manager and she's forcing me out of my home," Blakeman said, in her opinion of the events unfolding in her life.

Blakeman lives in Oak Ridge Village Apartments in Antioch. The units are owned by the Meridian Group of Rockford. A local housing manager is hired by the Meridian Group to provide tenant services and manage resident's compliance with Section 8 housing regulations established by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Scott Litton, speaking for Meridian Group, describes Oak Ridge Village as elderly and family housing. He said the Village has 48 housing units occupied by elderly people and 42 units that are available for families.

He is in the business of providing homes for families and to comply with the regulations set forth by the federal agency. "We're meticulous about compliance issues," he said.

"I've lived there for two years," said Blakeman. People have been having trouble with the new manager ever since her arrival in November, 1995 she said. "She talks down to us."

She wants to get all the teenagers out of the complex. "She tells people they are now no longer accepting young couples..." Blakeman said that people who have lived there seven years are now having troubles with management. She noted that several people she knows to have never had trouble before are now having some difficulties with the manager of the complex.

"We need someone to help us out because there is definitely a man-

Art in Antioch

Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry President Ed Cimaglio said the Arts and Crafts Faire was "the best one we've ever had. The biggest reason contributing to it was Dan Sills with his advertising campaign. He and Mo Ferguson just were fantastic on it." Village again rejects rezoning

Neighbors want houses, not industry

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Village trustees revisited their May 19 vote to rezone the Nauseda property and found themselves unwilling to change their mind. Their May vote to deny a rezoning request went unchanged after a long evening of discussion.

The property is 6.1 acres at 160 Depot Street. The Planning and Zoning Board had recommended to approve a petitioner request to rezone the Nauseda property from R-1 Residential zoning to M-1 Limited Manufacturing zoning. Village trustees denied the requested change.

"We're just having a discussion," is how Mayor Marilyn Shineflug described Monday evening's extended foray into the agenda's public comment period.

The board action, however, was what Depot Street residents requested in a letter they submitted to the village board that evening.

"We greatly appreciate the Antioch Village Board and Mayor Shineflug for listening to our concerns and voting against this zoning change at the June 6, 1997 meeting. We ask that the board re-affirm their previous decision," the letter by Valerie Bonhivert stated.

New information about the proposed property use from long-time village resident John Cook did not bring the trustees and neighborhood

Teenie Beanie Babies Raffle at Rummage

"We are going to raffle off 300 McDonald's Teenie Beanie babies," says Claudette Skvarce of the St. Peter's Catholic Church 34th Annual Rummage Sale.

Raffle tickets will be sold only at the sale and winners notified by mail. "These are only available at the rummage sale."

There is a lot of stuff at the rummage sale. "Last year was big. This year is tremendous. We are bursting at the seams," Skvarce said. "We are stuffed."

The sale starts June 26th at 8 a.m. and goes to 9 p.m. The same hours are also for Friday the 27th. On Saturday, the rummage sale is open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Sunday the 29th from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

VILLAGE: Rejects rezoning residents to agreement. "These are going to be nice, attractive professional office buildings," said Cook. His proposal was to construct an office building with warehouse space. He sees a market for buildings that are attractive within which light assembly work can be done.

"It would still be a good neighborhood in the future," Cook said.

Some trustee reaction to the need to revisit the proposal was initially skeptical. Later in the meeting, once details were learned of the Cook proposal, trustees sought to bring neighborhood residents and developers together for agreement on a business zoning classification for the property.

Mayor Shineflug underscored the position of the village board. "This board has yet to see a proposal as to what is supposed to go on there with the zoning."

Marvin Oldenberger looked for common ground by seeking a zoning classification that is less intense than manufacturing. He wondered how neighbors felt about something that would allow for office space.

Don Schroeder, 851 West Depot Street, was quite direct with the response of four adjacent property owners. "We are opposing anything but residential on that property," he said. "Anything short of that, except park or forest preserve, or whatever the case might be, is objectionable to us."

Use of the property for Section 8 housing development was discussed. Section 8 housing refers to a program by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development that provides a subsidy to private sector housing developers which is used to reduce the cost of the rent paid by their eligible tenants.

Wayne Sobczak said, "When the village board turned the petition down the last time, we had three requests, three inquiries on the property, three actual viable inquiries from people who would be willing to purchase the property with current zoning with their intention being a low-income or possible Section 8 in order for them to make any money."

agement problem here that someone needs to address," Blakeman said.

"We have no interest in moving people out who are abiding by their lease terms," Litton explained. He added, "We have people that are under notice for not paying rent on occasion and not submitting documentation on income." People receiving a Section 8 certificate must report income changes to property managers or their representatives within 10 days he said. People get new jobs and sometimes come in late to report extra income, he noted.

Litton stressed his need to comply with federal regulations for the rent subsidy program. "You could have your contract yanked," he said of a failure by his managers to properly comply with HUD requirements and procedures.

Litton declined to discuss the specifics of any personal situations in Oak Ridge Village. "I can't mention names. It just wouldn't be right," he said.

"People who have been asked to leave are only those who have violated their lease, and they've been previously notified of it," Litton said. "My personal feeling is that the manager is trying to enforce reasonable standards."

"It's a reasonable lease," he said. "There are protections for both parties." He says there is an emergency telephone that can be used for calls. He has received no letters or petitions about conditions that were brought before the Antioch Village Board. "If there is some problem that is outside of policy, we have not heard about it."

The Lake County Fair Housing Center heard about the complaints from Blakeman, however.

Blakeman was referred by the Center to Prairie States Legal Services. "They turned me away," she said. "They said I had no grounds for discrimination or harassment."

Blakeman turned to the village trustees at the end of a long evening. "There is nobody else we know who to turn to," she said.

Mayor Marilyn Shineflug explained that the village had no jurisdiction. But Village attorney, Kenneth Clark, did say: "What we can do is we can find the right person to direct you to." He said that the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has a grievance committee to which such matters may be taken. "If there's a grievance, they'll come up here," he said.

"We'll give you a phone number," said the Mayor. And, the evening was over.

ACHS: To see $8 million in building renovations terson, identified the specifics of the process during the past few months. Since the existing site is so small, it is a challenge to determine the best place for expansion. "Parts are over 80 years old," he said. Another task was to identify major issues that must be addressed in reconstruction, such as accessibility, infrastructure construction materials, changes in educational program requirements, and the need to replace parts of the building. A third task was to examine how the building is currently used by 1,800 students and how the needs of 2,000 students would affect that.

Enrollment projections were prepared about five years ago, according to Ahlers. "They did everything right, but history has shown the data wound up being over stated. . .

.But, the trend that they identified did materialize. The growth is in the elementary schools. We will definitely have 2000 students probably within the next five years."

Patchen prepares for pie prize

Here's some career advice: in a news strategy meeting dominated by female editors, do not suggest that you bake a pie for the Antioch July 4th Apple Pie Baking Contest.

The key to winning the Antioch July 4th Apple Pie Contest, fortunately, however, is here on the table as this story is written.

The Village of Antioch will sponsor the 5th Annual Apple Pie Baking Contest. Pies will be judged in Williams Park on July 4th at 12:30 p.m. Pies should be dropped off between 11 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Entries will be served with ice-cream and sold to generate funds to help pay for celebration expenses.

First and second place winners will be chosen in each of two pie categories: the traditional two crust apple pie, and a Dutch apple pie. Contestants are asked to bake two pies for one or both categories. First prize is $100 and a certificate. Second prize is $50 and a certificate. Entry forms are at Village Hall.

Here begineth the quest for $100.

In a home with two decade's worth of Bon Appetite Magazines, it should not be difficult to find an apple pie recipe, a pie that will walk over to the judge's fork, climb on, grab a taste-bud, and hang on until the judge declares that that pie of this reporter is a first place winner, and here is your check and certificate, sir, thank you very much.

But you would be wrong. True pie cooks know that the secret of a good pie is the crust. Think flaky. Flaky crust equals great pie. But there is no one at home to create such a pie crust, teach how to create that pie crust, mentor the creation of that pie crust. No, for this pie, the weakness will be the crust.

There are, however, lots of perfect pie crust recipes, six of which are on the table in front of this computer screen. How hard can it be to follow directions?

The question was raised at home: where does one find an apple pie recipe. A feminine voice was heard to say, "Your mother-in-law's recipe is around here someplace."

Oh sure. I saw her make pies. The local newspaper had to force her to measure out the ingredients so they could publish a copy of it. Up to that point it was handfuls of flour, pinches of salt, and dashes of water. No wonder her daughter does not make flaky pie crusts.

The quest is on. Polson's had no apples for a pie, so maybe the Jewel or Piggly-Wiggly will provide.

This reporter can taste flaky victory already. — By Kenneth Patchen

5th Apple Pie Contest on 4th

The Village of Antioch will sponsor its fifth annual apple pie contest to help finance costs of July 4th celebration events.

Awards of $100 and $50, plus certificates, will be awarded to first and second place finishers in two pie categories.

Contestants are asked to submit two pies for each category, Traditional 2-crust Apple Pie, and Dutch Apple Pie.

The entry fee is $2 per category for two pies. Entry forms are available at Village Hall and should be returned as soon as possible.

Pies should be delivered to Williams Park between 11 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. on July 4th. Judging will begin at 12:30 p.m. Pies will be sold with ice-cream.

Winners of first and second place in each pie category will be announced in the afternoon. A panel of judges will select winning entries.

Ken Patchen shows his first attempt at the perfect apple pie as he practices for the 5th annual Apple Pie Baking Contest, to be held July 4.

History Society remodels basement

Bob Lindblad, president of the Lakes Region Historical Society, called attention to Earl Beese's work in the basement of the Museum building. It will be open on July 4th even if the displays themselves are not yet ready for installation. The basement is remodeled to display a street boardwalk with a dentist office, print shop, and barber shop. They have also constructed a room-within-a-room that has special climate control so that the Museum collection can be better protected in storage. Earl Beese noted some of the less obvious improvements they have made in the basement of the museum: upgraded electrical service, sump pumps to dry it out and keep it dry, tuck pointed walls, and special moisture proofing on the walls. The work was made possible by a bequest from the late Homer LaPlant estate.

Jack's Four Squires at 414 Lake Street still has some Antioch Afghans for $50, $10 of which goes to benefit the Lakes Region Historical Society. The scenes are of Antioch School and Centennial Park.

It took two hours for Jayme Martin to paint "Go Bulls" on her parent's entire house roof according to her grandmother Elaine Rockow. The results may still be on display at 23844 West Beach Grove Road. Gene and Karleen Garner took their daughter's enthusiasm in stride, however, since they will soon have the roof recovered with new shingles.

Elizabeth Goodman of Antioch has graduated Magna Cum Laude from Albion College in Albion, Mich. She now works at the U.S. State Department. She plans to live there. She had spent her Junior year studying in both Washington, D.C. and Milbourn University in Australia. She is the daughter of Eileen Goodman of Antioch and Jim Goodman of Arlington Heights.

The Tulip Patch, 390 Lake Street, has some new Heritage Lace window treatments and table lace. The three styles to choose from are: country, traditional, and Victorian.

Just before the rain Saturday, 15 Sequoia Warriors 4-H members were planting donated flowers in the park leading from Main Street to the parking lot along Toft Street. The flowers were donated from all over Lake County, including some from local merchants Marty Schwind Greenhouses and Jewel Foods. "Every year Cooperative Extension Service has a community beautification day," said 4-H leader Jane Qualmann. Also helping out was leader Sandy Rhodes. The project was done in cooperation with Village officials and the Antioch Garden Club. Said Suzie Hetzel, "It's a busy walkway and people would like to walk in one that is aesthetically pleasing."

KC's Cabin, at Route 173 and Wilmet Road, will sponsor a day for Jennifer Cullen and family to help her register for Volleyball. The day is June 28 and the cost is $75 for each coed six-player volleyball team. There is a raffle every three hours, horseshoes, food, and prizes. It starts at noon. Call for information and to register: Heidi (414-889-4481); Amy (414-862-6052), or Kara (847-838-1024).

Thompson's Strawberry Farm, on Highway 50 in Bristol, Wis., expects to start berry picking the week of June 23. This is later than usual. Berries may be more plentiful the second week. The cool spring weather pattern has slowed growth.

If you have interesting information or anecdotes to submit for "Our Town" call staff reporter Ken Patchen at 223-8161, ext. 131 or e-mail, edit@lnd.com."

LETTER TO EDITOR

Caller misinformed on wetland's value

This rebuttal is in response to a comment published in Lip Service on June 13.

Dear Angry and Misinformed:

You know anger can sometimes be a most disturbing emotion. Obviously, your anger is causing you great pain and impairing your ability to do proper research before making untrue and nasty comments about the youth of our community and myself.

A. I'm sure you didn't realize the importance of wetlands and how they are natural filters for Mother Nature.

B. The youth of our community do care about today, the future, and how things were 80 years ago. I have had the honor of working side by side with the youth of our community on the wetlands clean up, beautification projects, painting of the Scout House, special events, etc. They are the greatest and they are interested. If you would take the time to work and recreate with the youth of our community, you wouldn't have made that remark.

C. My goal, when I start any project, is to minimize cost through donations, volunteer help, grants that are available, and any other method of conserving tax dollars for the betterment of Antioch. You see, I am a taxpayer just like you, and I don't want my tax dollars wasted either.

D. This wetland area will be an area where all of our citizens, young and old, can learn about and physically see a wetland function. Don't you feel education and environment are important, don't you understand this is a community project, people working together to improve their community.

Now my guess is, because of the untrue statements you made, the wetland restoration project is not the issue. This is, apparently, a personal attack on myself and a put down on the youth of the community. I would be more than happy to take the time to answer any question you have. We have saved the taxpayers thousands of dollars on projects that we have initiated.

Furthermore, I would like to invite you to our June 26th meeting with the Illinois Dept. of Natural Resources' head biologist for Northern Illinois. This meeting is to assess Lake Tranquillity at Pedersen Park for weed control and a stocking program. These programs through the state are at no cost to us.

Courage of conviction would certainly include signing your name. Let's see if you can step up to the plate.

Historical Society to discuss Fort Sheridan

Why was Fort Sheridan built in the most unlikely location, on the lakefront between two prestigious North Shore suburbs? Why was it built at all? Paul Melichar will present answers for these questions when he discusses the origin and founding of Fort Sheridan at the Lake Region Historical Society on June 26 at 7:30 p.m.

The historic army post was not the result of a reaction to the Haymarket Riot of 1886, many people believe. Melichar begins the Fort Sheridan story 40 years earlier, when its land was occupied by the village of St. Johns. "Time has forgotten this early industrial center, and historians have literally misplaced it," says Melichar, whose research has been published by the Lake County Museum and the Fort Sheridan Historic Preservation Society.

The Lakes Region Historical Society meets at the Museum, 817 Main St., Antioch. The public is invited. Refreshments will be served. For more information, contact Robert Lindblad, 395-0799 or Nancy Binder, 395-1453.

ANTIOCH

Traffic stop yields warrant

Antioch Police arrested Peter J. Schwarz, 30, Antioch, on June 8 at 2:37 a.m. for an outstanding warrant through Cook County for violation of supervision, DUI, and $10,000 bond. Schwarz was arrested and booked on improper land usage and driving on a suspended license. He was traveling east bound on Route 173 west of Tiffany Road in a 1985 Oldsmobile. He was released on the Antioch charges on a recognizance bond and assigned a 10:30 a.m. court date in Grayslake. He was extradited to Cook County for the warrant.

Paraphernalia warrant nabs offender

Antioch Police officers arrested Anthony J. Buchanan, 19, Antioch, on an active warrant through the Lake County Sheriff's Department for failure to appear on a possession of drug paraphernalia offense. He had been released on a $5,000 bond on that offense. He was arrested in a 1980 Chevrolet going 50 m.p.h. in a 40 m.p.h. zone traveling west bound on Route 173 at Route 83 and McMillan.

Suspended license

Antioch Police arrested David L. Malson, 22, Gurnee, for driving on a suspended driver's license and lack of proof of insurance. Malson was east bound on Route 173 at McMillan Road in a 1989 Buick. He was released on a recognizance bond with a July 9 court date in Grayslake.

LAKE VILLA

Arrested for false report

Michael Dennis, 18, of Waukegan, on June 11, was arrested for making a false police report. He told police he had stopped at the Shell station and someone stole his car. After subsequent investigation and questioning, it was determined the vehicle wasn't stolen. Lindenhurst police stopped a vehicle matching his description and found it was his brother coming to pick him up. He then reportedly admitted he made the report because he didn't have a ride home and hoped he could get a ride with police.

Shooting leaves RLB man with a bullet in his back

By ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

Round Lake Beach police are sorting through conflicting stories and possible motives as they attempt to apprehend those involved with a shooting at Cedar Villas public housing complex.

Jeff Hurley, 19, 1001 Lotus Drive, Round Lake Beach, has a bullet lodged in his spine, but has recovered enough to be released from Condell Medical Center.

"It is unknown as to why he was shot at this time," said Commander John Laycock. "There are several theories we are investigating."

Police have interviewed several witnesses to the June 11 shooting.

According to police reports, Hurley took a step outside his car and heard seven to 10 shots fired and one struck him in the back.

Police found him face down. He was transported to Condell where it was deemed too risky to remove the bullet because it was in the spinal cord.

It appears the shooter fired from behind some bushes and ran away before police could arrive.

Round Lake Beach detectives are continuing the investigation and questioning of witnesses.

This is the second episode in two weeks of someone being shot at. A week ago a house at the 1600 block of Melrose Drive was shot at, and it was followed by this incident.

Mysteries remain in death of elderly sisters

By ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

Several mysteries remain in the death of two elderly women who were professional musicians from Lake Villa Township. It is still being investigated by the police and the Lake County Coroner's office.

The sisters are believed to be in their mid 70s according to Jim Whipper, deputy Lake County coroner. They were found in their Crooked Lake subdivision home. They have been identified as Evelyn and Hazel Kleinod.

"We obtained some information from a cousin in Waukegan" Whipper said. "She believes they were born in Cook County."

The two were piano players who had a special trailer to bring their pianos which also served as living quarters.

Their stage name was the "Lenaud Sisters."

"We believe the younger sister died a few weeks before the other."

There may have been a few weeks before the older sister passed away," Whipper said.

Whipper noted the late discovery of the bodies makes it difficult to determine which one died first. They were believed to be dead for at least three months before police found them.

The grass at the yard was two feet tall when a neighbor went over to check on the sisters and didn't get an answer June 9. Lake County Sheriff's Department officers were able to break open the door and found the sisters dead.

One was found in the bedroom and another was found in the hallway.

Apparently the sisters appeared to keep to themselves in the last few years so no one seemed to have any contact with them, according to Whipper.

The sister's home is located at the corner of Maple and Elm Streets.

There is yet to be a funeral. The public administrator's office is handling the arrangements.

Man found dead in truck for four days

By ELIZABETH EAKEN
Staff Reporter

A busy and unpleasant morning was faced by Newport Fire Department members, Tuesday, who responded to an unpleasant scene of a truck driver found dead in the sleeping quarters of his semi-truck. That same day, Fire Department members also assisted Bonnie Brook Fire Department by extricating a young man killed in a collision with a church bus, from a vehicle.

At 8:30 a.m., the department responded to Baby Doll's, adult lounge at 41475 Route 41, regarding a semi-truck trailer that had been parked in the rear of the establishment.

They discovered Howard Flamholtz 50, of Chester, New York, dead in his truck. According to Lake County Deputy Coroner Jim Whipper, Flamholtz's cause of death hasn't been determined, but he most likely died of natural causes and had serious medical problems. Apparently his wife last talked to him June 9, and his trucking company had reported him missing four days prior.

Later in the morning, around 10:45 a.m., the department responded on a mutual aid call from Bonnie Brook to the scene of an accident on Lewis Road just north of Wadsworth Road. A Mazda reportedly broadsided a church bus attempting to turn from a gas station on the north east corner of the intersection, into the southbound lanes of Lewis Avenue.

The Mazda sports type vehicle was traveling at a high rate of speed and slid passenger side first into the side of the bus which was empty except for the driver.

'Dr. Seuss' bandit still loose

By JASON J. KING
Staff Reporter

A man fitting the description of the one who held up the Vernon Hills Citibank on June 7, hit two other suburban banks on Friday, June 13, and Monday, June 16.

The man, dubbed the "Dr. Seuss Bandit" for the tall stovepipe hat he wore for the first two hold ups, wore a dark colored baseball cap in the last two heists officials said.

The man held up the First Midwest Bank in Highland Park on Friday, and the Edens Bank in Wilmette on Monday around 4:30 p.m.

The suspect in the Edens robbery matched the description of the so-called "Dr. Seuss Bandit"—male, early 30s to late 20s, black baseball cap, approximately 5-foot, 10-inches tall and around 190 pounds. The man in Monday's heist also wore the trademark large bandage covering his nose, his upper lip and portions of his cheeks.

In each of the cases the man entered the banks and demanded that the teller place cash into a white bag.

Young ballerina selected for dance workshop in Vail, Colo.

By KEN PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

In 12 cities, 1000 people auditioned. One Antioch teenager, Melissa Bartusch, 13, was selected as one of 50 dancers eligible to participate in the Vail Colorado International Dance Festival workshop, June 16 through 28.

"I love dance," Bartusch said. It is the first of two major dance workshops she will spend her summer attending. Bartusch will also attend BalletMet in Columbus, Ohio. In these two programs from mid-June to early August, she will have the opportunity to work on her preprofessional dance skills with master teachers. She will attend performances of professional dance artists.

These current opportunities, however, are the result of a casual introduction to dance when she was four years old. Kathy Bartusch, mother of Melissa, said, "It was kind of a lark for her and her cousin to attend a dance class." But, now Melissa really loves it.

Out of those early classes developed Melissa's interest in dance. She now dances six days a week, although she admits "more of the time I practice on weekends because of the fact of homework." She has good grades and is an honor student in the seventh grade at Antioch Upper Grade School.

Melissa Bartusch studied at Kim Kalla's Studio of Dance in Lake Villa until she was 12. She now works with instructors at a couple of dance studios in the Chicago and Milwaukee area.

"I'm not sure where it will go, but I am hoping I will become a professional dancer," she said. Already she has attended other workshops and appeared in Chicago-area dance productions. She has studied with the Milwaukee Ballet School in their preprofessional 1996 summer program.

Bartusch has appeared in a production of the Joffrey Ballet of Chicago's "The Nutcracker" at the Rosemont Horizon.

"We went out during the snow scene with candles and danced between the leading snow queen and snow prince," she said. It was more than five minutes of stage performance time for her. She has also done recitals with the Milwaukee Ballet School and performed at the Lake County Fair.

"I've also done some competitions with dance," she said. Competitions involve doing a dance with music and undergoing evaluation by judges. Winners are selected.

Bartusch was selected for the Vail workshops as the result of her own initiative.

"I saw an advertisement and I decided I wanted to try it." She subscribes to dance magazines that carry descriptions of workshop programs. Of the auditions, she said: "They evaluate my technique and if they think I enjoy it or not."

In Vail she expects to have a chance to meet and work with dance professionals. "You stay in a dormitory with chaperones and the dancers are also there," she said. For instruction, students are placed in small groups by ability.

Contributing factors to her success, she said, have been her parents. "They support me in what I'm doing and how I feel," Kathy Bartusch acknowledges that there has been an "incredible amount of money and driving around." Both parents, Kathy and Thomas, have pride in their daughter's interest and accomplishments.

At Vail, Melissa will receive instruction from Michael Ho and Julia Walsh of the Royal Academy of Dance in London. This will include the following areas: technique, pointe, variations, choreography, international styles, and theater for dancers.

NEIGHBORS

Name: Pam Podstawa

Occupation: Secretary to the Principal of Antioch Community High School

I'm originally from: Antioch.

I graduated from: Antioch Community High School in 1971.

My family consists of: Myself, husband Patrick, and three sons: Jason (who just graduated from ACHS), Adam (who is a junior), and Kevin (who is a freshman at ACHS).

My pets are: We have a dog named Suzie, three cats named Her-shberger, Boots, Snickers, a guinea pig named Yogi, and a pond with fish. We've come to recognize them.

What I like best about Antioch: My husband and I feel very strongly about Antioch. It is home. We have a lot of roots here.

The secret to my success is: My husband I really are a team. He went to college, but I made a commitment to invest in our children — even when they are in high school. The two of us have always done what's best for the family unit.

If I could be anyone in history, I would be: Amelia Earhart. I like challenges, I like something a little bit different. I'm not one to follow the crowd.

I relax by: I just go home with my family; movies; gardening; and now that the kids are older, we like camping. We're getting very spontaneous in our trips — once we ended up in New Orleans. We like to do adventurous type things.

My perfect day in Antioch would be: Going to the antique shops and then one of the small sandwich shops. Our whole family has turned into bargain hunters.

Favorite movie is: We saw "The Lost World." It was really good, but it didn't follow the book.

Favorite food is: We're into low-fat food. We got rid of all our cookbooks. We like salmon steaks and fresh tuna steaks — grilled.

Favorite music: Classical music and jazz such as Yanni, George Winston, Black and White, Enya, Loreena McKennitt

My life's motto is: The older I get the more I realize how little I really know.

My greatest accomplishments are: It would have to be my three boys. They're really good kids. There is one thing that my entire family is very proud of and that is the fact we built our own house using plans that we found when we first got married 23 years ago. The whole family got involved with it.

If I could change one thing about myself it would be: To get a higher level of education. It's something I've always regretted not doing, but I never knew what I wanted to be. I am taking classes, now.

People who knew me in high school would say: A lot of them can't believe I came back here. This is my community. I want to see it succeed.

Most interesting person I ever met was: Several people who work right here at the school. One is Julie Elver, because she's extremely bright. She truly uses both sides of her brain. She likes to explore. She teaches science, math, and ceramics. And Jack Miller. I couldn't do the volunteer program without him. I really admire him because he is a senior citizen who is interested in working with the kids and school. Louie Vasseur and Jack's wife also are like that. I just have so much admiration for people like them who keep contributing.

My dream job would be: Depends on what day you catch me. Somedays it's President, somedays it's lying on the beach.

People would be most surprised to know this about me: I am one of those people who says pretty much what they are thinking.

If you have a "Neighbor" that you would like to see profiled in this column, call Claudia Lenart or Kevin Hanrahan at 223-8161.

Students raise funds for local food pantries

The Antioch Community High School National Honor Society sponsored its third annual fundraising Bowl-a-thon. This year the proceeds went to benefit area food pantries. Approximately 90 students bowled, and they raised $2,000. According to NHS Advisor Sue Schmitt "Russ Bain of Antioch Bowl was extremely generous and donated the lanes and the shoes so all of the money raised could go directly to the food pantries." The Bowl-a-thon is the annual service project of ACHS NHS.

Memorial Day memories linger

With the weather on Memorial Day being so unseasonably cold, Neal was unable to tend to his outdoor chores (i.e. golf swing). I thought I would take advantage of his presence to run off to do my weekly grocery shopping without the kids. As I was about to leave Neal appeared and said, "let's all go," meaning him and the kids. I went into the bathroom and took four Tylenol.

I knew we were doomed from the minute we pulled into the parking lot of the supermarket and Neal announced that he was hungry. Any seasoned shopper knows the first rule of good shopping etiquette is "Never go on an empty stomach." I should have made him turn the Pringlemobile around right then and there but I thought a little adventure might bring some sunshine to a cold, gloomy day—I wasn't disappointed.

The first confrontation took place before we were even in the store. Neal grabbed a cart so I didn't. "Don't you usually get two carts?" he inquired. "I have never used two carts in all my years of shopping" I answered knowing I was in serious trouble—once again I wasn't disappointed. Shopping Rule Number 2: No treats for the children until you reach the check out counter and mom wasn't totally embarrassed by their in-store antics. But dad was with us on this day and rule number two was broken the minute we walked through the automatic doors and into the freshly stacked display of potato chips. After the display was re-stacked, each child got to pick two. Then came the produce section. I figured we would skirt this entire half of the store in one sweep seeing as fruits and veggie's ranked no where on the Pringle Family Food Pyramid. But, oh no, we had to pick up and examine every different type of apple, lettuce, turnip and celery and everything in-between. Then, the automatic sprinklers came on to moisten the fruits and vegetables, and Neal became engrossed in examining the sprinkling apparatus trying to figure out how he could modify it for his front lawn. We bought green apples (because we only had red one's at home and dad said we could get green), oranges, strawberries and cherries. Then came the plea for watermelon. Please, oh please, mom. "I'll cut it up for them" says dad. I knew better, and I was right.

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

Needless to say, our cart was full by the time we went down Aisle Two and Neal spent the rest of our adventure reminding me that it was I who said we would only need one cart. And down every aisle we went. Down the dog and cat food aisle, we have no dog or cat. Down the aisle with the vacuum cleaner bags and shower liners, we have central vac and shower doors. Down past hair color (don't bother), denture adhesive (not required) and baby food (don't need anymore). As the Tylenol was wearing off we finally reached the check out counter and proceeded to unload the goods from the cart and pay for our purchases—and pay I did. The bill was twice the amount usually spent in a week. As I paid the clerk, Neal and the girls packed up our food. Now on an average, our groceries fill up about five brown shopping bags a week. I must be doing something seriously environmentally unsound when I pack up our groceries. Neal used only two brown bags for our entire load and that included bagging two cases of soda and a 20 pound turkey. Never has a Memorial Day been so memorable.

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle"—don't forget to call 395-6364.

Readers with information for "Jingle from Pringle" should call Lynn Pringle at 395-6364.

Win or lose, Cubs games really are fun

Recently I attended my very first Cubs game, which happened to be one of the first games of the new inter-league play against the Milwaukee Brewers. Now, baseball is not my favorite sport, but I played when I was younger and I still know the game. I have attended Major League Baseball games at Anaheim Stadium in California, Arlington Stadium in Texas, County Stadium in Wisconsin, and now Wrigley Field in Illinois.

But this game re-enforced an idea that I thought was just reserved for the not-so-avid fans—the idea that when you go to baseball game, you are there for much more than just the game.

People are so involved having fun, drinking and eating, and talking in the stands, that half the time you don't know what the score is or which team is up to bat. I consider myself a knowledgeable sports fan, and I'm not one for jumping and cheering—rather, I watch the game and look for the subtleties that most people miss.

But, on this beautiful day at Wrigley Field, I found myself caught up in the atmosphere with 30,000 of my closest friends. Surprisingly, there seemed to be just as many people cheering for the Brewers as there were rooting for the Cubs. And I was there, singing with Harry Carey, wearing my newly acquired Cubs sweatshirt, without a care whether the Cubs or the Brewers were winning—just enjoying a fun afternoon in Chicago.

That, my friends, is why baseball was, and maybe still is (to an extent) The National Pastime.

All you Lake County golfers listen up! Lakeland Newspapers is hosting the First Annual Lake County Charity Golf Outing on Monday, July 21st at 9 a.m. at Renwood Country Club in Round Lake. Two separate Lakeland winners will play in a foursome with two members of the Chicago Wolves, including Steve Maltais. The golf outing benefits the Illinois Center for Youth Advocacy.

The golf outing includes 18-holes of golf with cart, continental breakfast, lunch, soft drinks, prize bags for each golfer, and the chance to win serious prizes. To enter the golf outing contest, please send your name, age, address and phone number on a piece of paper either by mail or fax to:

Local players burn base paths

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

The strategy has been termed "Billy Ball" or "manufacturing a run." While there many any future threats to Lou Brock or Rickey Henderson's status as base stealers, Lake County prep baseball has produced its share of speed demons over the years.

Players which catchers dread to have on first base. Then there are teams known for its execution of delayed steals, which can make a defense look foolish.

As the post-season (and the weather) heat up, here is a look at some of the area's differing views on the running game of baseball:

Round Lake's Dan Daughton has 26 stolen bases to his credit heading into the post-season.

"He has the green light as well as Derrick Edwards and Bryan Lester. He is just fast. He does not have excellent jumps, but he is awful fast," said RL coach Howard Conkling.

Daughton, the Panthers lead-off man, has 42 walks, leading to a .600 on-base average.

Warren has stolen 69 of 82 attempts, 84 percent while Carmel is over 80 percent as well.

Travis Platt has been unstoppable in a perfect 12-12 season.

"Travis has the best speed going. That allows him to get maximum leads.

"The key is you have to be able to run and the quicker you get the first step, it can mean an extra base," said Townsend.

"This is the best team speed I have had," said fifth-year coach Townsend.

Warren saw its skill blossom as the Blue Devils finished fourth in the state summer baseball tourney.

"It is easier to steal third than second," said Townsend.

Matt Tinscher and Tim Zorich are a hot 8-10 in the stolen base department. Lance Johnson is 4-5, Kevin Carrier 3-4. Brian Falotico had 8-10 before injuring his wrist, ending his season. Dan Henry was 10-13.

Carmel, runner-up in the East Suburban Catholic Conference, finished the regular season 75-89, 84 percent. All-conference pitcher Josh Ward was 9-9; Chris Schaeffer 15-22 and Mark Staehle 10-13. Mike Kaywood was a perfect 7-7 and Mike Kaywood and Mike Schmidt were a solid 4-4.

Ironically, success and speed on the bases are not automatic partners.

Libertyville, the North Suburban Conference champ three years in a row, is led by catcher Luke McKnight's 15 stolen bases. That is far from the standard set by Vic McFadden, who swiped 28 of 31 bases for LHS in 1991.

The current Wildcat squad has 82 stolen bases.

Wauconda has a 24-win season under its belt and the last NWSC title will stay at the school title ever, but the Bulldogs did not achieve success through being fleet of foot.

"We knew going into the season we would not be fast. But we work hard on moving guys over to the next base," said coach Jim Van Fleet.

Antioch finished the NSC season with four wins in six games leading up to the finale. Coach Paul Petty said the running game has picked up.

"We try to run a lot and lately the combinations have been good," said Petty.

Antioch's Chris Groth had two stolen bases in the game while the marquee stolen base threat, Platt, had none in a 2-0 Antioch win.

Many of the local baseball teams feature thieves of the base paths. Stevenson Larry Waxman (above) reaches for the bag as Libertyville's Matt Thompson looks for the ball. A Round Lake base burner (right) hustles toward third in hopes for another successful attempt.—Photos by Sandy Bressner

At Grant, the youth movement has brought speed to the Bulldogs' late-season surge.

"Sophomore Matt Sage has come up and stolen three bases. He has good wheels and good athleticism. He brings a new dimension, team speed. Early in the year, we were down by so much it did not make sense to play for a run or a stolen base. The added speed helps your attack," said Grant coach Lee Raddatz.

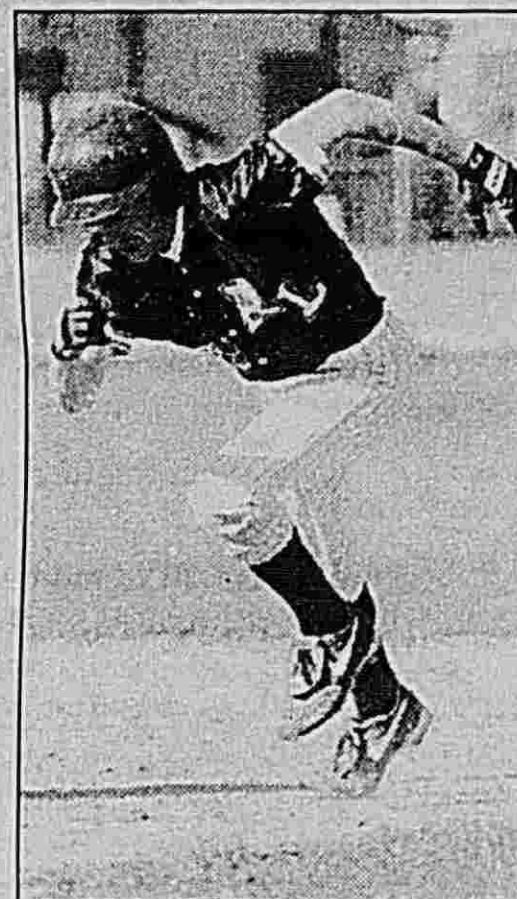

Grant, winners of two of its last three games, is 5-22 before Waukegan Regional action begins.

Dillard watch: None of the above can match Levar Dillard of the College of Lake County. He was a perfect 51-51 for the sectional champs. His thefts have earned him attention in the upcoming major league draft and a spot on an international team assembling in New York.

"He had to call the coach on a cell phone in the dugout of the Junior College World Series to tell them he could play," said CLC coach Gene Hanson.

Stahovick watch: the former Carmel star came back to the active roster following an injured finger suffered while, ironically, stealing a base for the Minnesota Twins. He was the lone Twin to make contact, a fly out, against Milwaukee reliever Doug Jones, in a 5-4 Brew Crew win.

Sequoits softball reflects on '97 highs

A week had passed since the loss to Mundelein which ended Antioch's girls softball season at the Barrington Sectional semi-final.

Enough time to look back with pride on a team which produced the third sectional appearance in 12 years, a Co-North Suburban Conference Championship with Mundelein and 27 victories.

Pitching and offensive leader Jamie Silarski is the team's Most Valuable Player, selected by teammates.

"What happened for Jamie was she matured not only with her selection but her location. She was able to keep opposing hitters off-balance," said ACHS coach Steve Wapon.

Silarski compiled a 18-7 record with a 2.35 ERA. She had 124 strikeouts and only 24 walks. She was one of five all-NSC team selections. She was also one of several players named NSC all-academic.

Senior Laura Deutsch, Stephanie Haenchen, Angie Pedersen and Sarah

Rackow were named all-academic NSC. "A lot of people hit the ball against her, but we played sound defense and her strikeout to walk ratio was good," said Wapon of Silarski.

Silarski was a threat on offense as well. She hit .551 with an on-base average of .645. She had two home runs, five triples and nine doubles.

Junior pitcher Kristin Scopel was also the designated hitter. She hit .379 with an on-base average of .443. She had six doubles and a triple.

Another junior is Shannah Jaburek, an infielder. She hit .321 and was on-base almost half of the time. She was lead-off hitter most of the year and played short-stop, second and the outfield.

Pederson, an outfielder, posted a .398 average and .486 on-base average. She had six triples and three doubles.

"She was the right person to be a clean-up batter," said Wapon.

Liz Koeck's strength came from defense. The senior played first base.

Sophomore Melissa Bock was named Most Improved Player. She patrolled the hot corner of third base. She batted .241.

"She was very courageous and did a great job," said Wapon.

Bronco Travelers having hot spring

Lake Villa Baseball's Bronco Travelers have completed their spring schedule and earned trophies in three tournaments and have gone undefeated so far in league play. The Broncos are 22-3 overall, 8-0 in league play.

The 12-year-old traveling team took first place at the Racine Spring Tournament, beating out both Palatine teams on the final day to win the championship. Coach Tom Meyers called the championship win "very exciting," saying he is "very proud of how the team performed. They are a talented group of players with great ability."

The 12-year-olds followed that performance with a third-place finish in their own tournament. Finally, the Broncos fell to host Lake Zurich in the championship game for a second-place finish over the Memorial Day weekend. Overall, LV is 10-2 in tournament play this year.

The Broncos faced Beach Park, Gurnee and Grayslake before moving onto the Waukesha tourney June 13-15.

ACHS hosts open track meet

Antioch Community High School will host an open track and field meet for ages pre-kindergarten to incoming eighth graders Tuesday, June 24th. Registration will begin at 5:30 p.m. and the meet will start at 6:00 p.m. The fee is $1 per child. For more information, please contact Steve Schoenfelder at 395-1421, ext. 234.

McRae earns letter at Coe

Justin McRae, a 1996 graduate of Antioch High School, earned a participation letter as a member of the Coe College baseball team. McRae is a freshman on the team and is the son of Darline and Cary McRae of Lindenhurst.

Lindenhurst Typhoon split at Forest View

The Lindenhurst Typhoon (boys soccer, U-9) split their games on a sunny Sunday afternoon at Forest View. In the first game, the Typhoon defeated Team Chicago Jets from Naperville 3-0. Offensively, the aggressive play of Nick Pietka provided the needed surge to complement the superb half-back combination in Ian Hunter and Alex McKenzie. But the credit for this victory belongs as much to the defensive play of Matthew Wade. Wade's first half goal-keeping prevented the Jets from netting a single one of their 8 shots on goal.

The Typhoon also played well on both halves of field in the second game against a Wheaton team even though they lost 2-1.

Gooch gives best at state

Dave Gooch found himself in a predicament at the Boys State Track and Field Meet.

The discus and the 200-meters were close on the schedule for the day. So close, he had to make a bee-line from the discus to the 200.

"He tried to do both, but his efforts in both suffered. Plus, it was a rainy day and he likes hot weather," said ACHS coach Norm Hahn.

The junior posted a 149-8 effort in the discus, three feet shy of qualifying for the finals.

Gooch had a 23.0 in the 200 and 11.3 in the 100-meters for fifth in his heat at the meet held at Eastern Illinois University.

"Individually, it was a satisfying year. The younger kids did real well," said Hahn.

Hippotherapy uses the movement of the horse to help children with disabilities improve their mobility, balance, self-esteem and posture

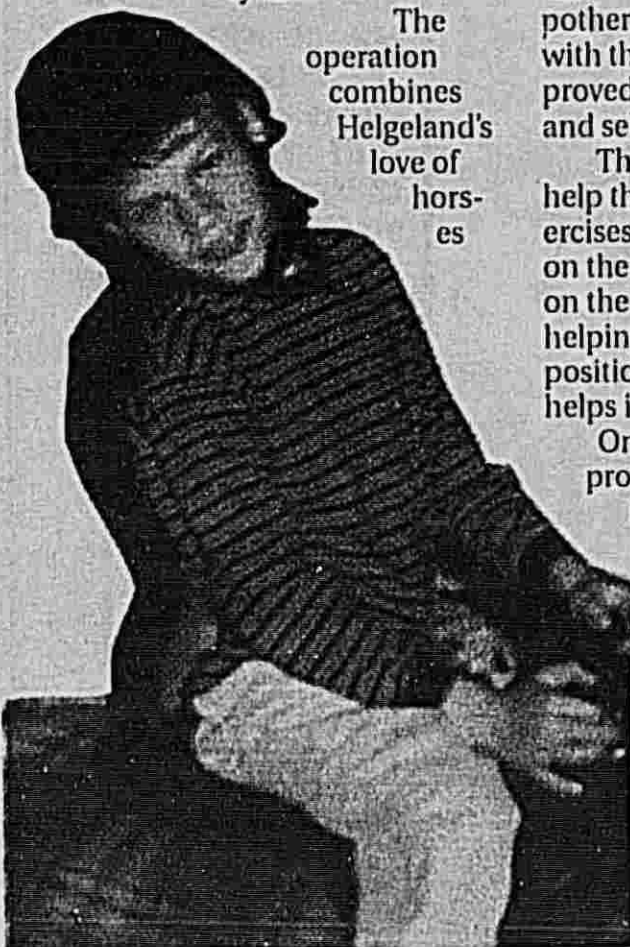

By CLAUDIA M. LENART
Regional Editor

For a child who has never been able to walk without the use of a walker, or who is confined to a wheelchair, being on top of a horse gives a sense of independence, unlike any other experience.

"It can give a child freedom of movement. You're sitting in a wheelchair all the time and now you have moving legs under you," said Diane Helgeland, who operates the Rosewood Equestrian/Therapy Challenge.

Rosewood operates horsemanship programs, which benefit people with disabilities, from two locations: Helgeland's own stable, Rosewood Farm in Lake Geneva, Wis., and White Birch Farm in Libertyville.

The operation combines Helgeland's love of horses

Jonathon Doetsch, 8, of Bannockburn, enjoys his weekly horseback riding sessions. His grandfather, John Doetsch, says he has made much progress in his muscle control.

with her background as a special education teacher. She previously taught for the Special Education District of McHenry County.

Hippotherapy is used by licensed physical therapists to improve neuromotor function and sensory processing in people with disabilities.

"The horse's gait closely simulates the human gait," said Pam Sax, of Long Grove, a physical therapist who works in the Rosewood program. "On a horse, the child will feel a lot of movement they never felt before."

"When they get off the horse, they can stand or walk a little better, and there is some carry over. Each week there's a little more improvement," said Sax.

Some of the benefits of Hippotherapy, which means "treatment with the help of the horse," are improved posture, balance, mobility and self-esteem.

The therapists and volunteers help the rider do many different exercises on the horse. They may lay on the horse, kneel or even stand on the horse. A lot of the work is just helping the rider to switch from one position to another, a skill which helps in daily life.

One of the most dramatic improvements witnessed through Rosewood was that of a little girl with cerebral palsy.

"This little girl would just lean over, she couldn't hold her head up. Now she can trot and ride with very little assistance. It's really amazing," said Sax.

"The horse is a real motivator," said Sax. "Kids like to be with the horses."

The riding programs not only help people with physical disabilities, they also help with mental and emotional disorders.

"For a behavior disorder child, they are on a 2,000-pound animal, and they can get mad, but it's not going to scream back at them. It teaches patience and discipline," said Helgeland.

Above, Pam Sax assists Matthew Jurey, 5, of Mundelein, as he takes a laying position on the horse. The rhythm of the horse stimulates unused muscles in children with disabilities, such as cerebral palsy. Right, Diane Helgeland and Daniel Sax help Kaylee Zachman, 12, of Mundelein perform a stretching exercise. der child, they are on a 2,000-pound animal, and they can get mad, but it's not going to scream back at them. It teaches patience and discipline," said Helgeland.

Besides Hippotherapy, Rosewood offers therapeutic riding and recreational riding for people with disabilities. Therapeutic riding can be a continuation of the beneficial activity after Hippotherapy; it can also help people with mental and emotional disabilities. Recreational riding is a leisure experience which provides benefits in the areas of socialization, posture, mobility and quality of life.

When the riders with disabilities are on the horse, it takes two to three people on the ground to help out, and Helgeland always needs more volunteers.

"We need volunteers who love kids, love horses and like to laugh," said Helgeland. "We like the type of person who would pull a magic rabbit out of a hat. We like to have fun."

For information about volunteer opportunities, call Rosewood Farm, (414) 248-5211.

Children's theatre

Three children's plays will be presented this summer at the College of Lake County. The series will open July 17 with "Rumpelstiltskin," followed by "The Enchanted Ring" on July 31 and "The Little Knight" on Aug. 14. All performances will be held at 1 and 7 p.m. in CLC's Grayslake auditorium.

CLC will present the summer children's theatre series in cooperation with Waukegan Park District's Bowen Park Theatre Co. Tickets are $3 for each performance. Advance ticket purchase is recommended since the series usually sells out. For tickets, call 543-2300.

Hercules

Take a group to see Walt Disney pictures' newest animated feature film, "Hercules," and "Disney's Magical Moments," a thrilling live state show featuring the most memorable characters in Disney history with a full orchestra.

"Hercules," is an epic comedy from John Musker and Ron Clements, the directing/writing duo that created "The Little Mermaid" and "Aladdin." Taking an irreverent and hilarious approach to the amazing adventures of the legendary superhero, the film follows Hercules as he discovers what it means to be a true hero. Adding to the film's fun and excitement are six new songs. "Hercules" offers an irresistible blend of memorable characters, comedy, drama, fun, romance and musical adventure in the very best tradition of Disney animated features.

Each performance of "The Hercules Summer Spectacular" includes an extraordinary live stage show celebrating the most memorable and magical moments in the history of Disney animated films. The show features fabulous singing and dancing, a full orchestra and the best-loved Disney characters—live on stage!

The once-in-a-lifetime event will be exclusively at the Chicago Theatre for seven days, June 20 to 26. The only way to purchase group rate tickets is to call the Hercules Group Sales Office at 1-888-347-6396. Individual tickets may be purchased by calling Ticketmaster at (312)903-1500 or go to the Chicago Theater Box office at 175 N. State St., Chicago. Prices range from $15 to 45 per ticket.

Creative summer

Creative projects challenge children all summer long, especially with the unusual world famous "Big Bagful" of unique and odd materials from Teacher Place and Parent Resources. Families pick out their own materials and fill the big grocery bag full to the top and then head home for endless creativity. Masks, puppets, miniatures, toys, structures, costumes, experiments, jewelry, futuristic prototypes, games, nature studies, and more can be made from these materials.

The non-profit educational center is open in June on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 1 to 4 p.m. and Saturdays from 10 a.m. 3 p.m. to pick out the big bagful. Children must be with an adult. The bagful cost is just $7.95. Several ideas on projects are also on display at the center at 533 Milwaukee Ave., Burlington, Wis. Call (414)763-3946 for further information.

A free gyroscope demonstration for families will be given at the world's only Spinning Top Museum. Gyroscopes are in the top category and go beyond being just a toy. They are important stabilizers in guidance systems as well as being fun to experiment with and fascinate all ages of children and adults.

The demonstration is free for families on Wednesday, June 25 at either 11:30 a.m. or 3 p.m. All children must be with an adult. Advance registration is suggested as space is limited. Several different gyroscopes will be available after the demonstration.

Strawberry Fest fun

The 15th Annual Long Grove Strawberry Fest, June 20 to 22 is a fun-filled event for kids. A visit to the historical village, with its covered bridge and horse-drawn carriages, becomes extra special during Strawberry Fest, with many events geared to young families. Besides the outdoor food booths and musical entertainment, here is the schedule:

THEATRE

'Lemonade'

Stage Two Theatre, 410 Sheridan Rd., Highland presents "Lemonade" by Michael T. Folle. A new-age yuppie bedroom farce has Carl asking his wife, Jane, to find a date for him. But, she inadvertently chooses Betsy, Carl's mistress! Relationships twist further as Jim falls for Jane while he wins the hearts of both women. Show dates are Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. and Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m. until June 21. Tickets are $15, $12 for students and seniors. For reservations, call 432-SHOW.

'Bye Bye Birdie'

The Cuneo Museum and Gardens, 1350 N. Milwaukee Ave., Vernon Hills will host Northstage Theatre's production of "Bye Bye Birdie" which will be running through June 27 in the Museum's Garden Pavilion Tent. Admission is $12 with group rates available. "Bye Bye Birdie" is directed by Paul Carlin and Rebecca Timms, and choreographed by Ms. Timms.

Readers Theatre

PM&L Theatre will try something new and experimental for the Antioch area theatre goers. A one night only Readers Theatre presentation of a version of the Greek tragedy "Antigone" by Jean Anouilh and translated by Lewis Galanter will be given at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St., Antioch, Sunday, June 22 at 8 p.m.

The play, directed by Tom Hausman from Antioch, is a thank you to the community for its continued support, and it is a new way of presenting plays that might not be given in the regular season. The play, which is free of charge, lasts a little more than an hour, and there will be a "talk back" with the director and the cast as well as refreshments after the show.

Cast members are Gigi Willding from Antioch as Antigone; Tom Hausman, Creon; Matt Conkrite from Fox Lake, Harmony/Messenger; Larry Bersie from Antioch, Sentry/Tieresias; Barbara Tzimoyannis from Fox Lake, Imene/Chorus; and the role of the narrator is shared by Debbie Heimke

Garden of Eatin' plans opening

On June 28 and 29, the Chicago Botanic Garden will open the largest fruit and vegetable display garden in the Midwest when it unveils the Garden of Eatin' at the Regenstein Fruit and Vegetable Garden. This major new regional gardening center will showcase the beauty and practicality of edible gardening through classes, a vast array of educational resources, and year-round festivals and programs for gardeners of all ages. From asparagus to zucchini, gardeners will discover more than 500 varieties of the finest fruits and vegetables that grow in the Midwest. The Garden of Eatin' is the Garden's first major garden opening since the 1991 dedication of the English Walled Garden.

Grand opening festivities will take place the weekend of June 28 and 29, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

CHECK IT OUT!

Gardeners of all levels of proficiency will enjoy activities that show the best ways to select, grow, use and eat regional fruits and vegetables. Festivities include: the opening of an exhibit featuring Tim Turner's photos from "Charlie Trotter's Vegetables," the cookbook by the renowned Chicago restaurateur, the Glencoe Farmers' Market; seasonal fruit and vegetable tastings, giveaways of patio tomato seedlings and basil seeds; live music and entertainment throughout the grounds; hands-on activities and crafts for families; and cooking demonstrations by noted Chicago area chefs. There is a suggested donation of $2 for adults and $1 for children.

The Chicago Botanic Garden is located at 1000 Lake Cook Rd., Glencoe. Call, 835-5440 for further information.

from Trevor, Wis., Elmarie Beno from Wildwood, and Dianne Hoskens from Lindenhurst.

For further details, call the theatre at, 395-1333.

'The Fantasticks'

"The Fantasticks," the longest running musical in the history of the American Theatre, will open at 8 p.m., July 10 in the Performing Arts Building Studio Theatre at the College of Lake County Grayslake Campus. Performances will continue at 8 p.m., July 11 and 12 and at 3 p.m. on July 13.

A simple story of young love and the foibles of human nature, "The Fantasticks," is as fresh and appealing today as it was when it opened in 1960. The musical is known for its melodic, humorous and at times sentimental songs, including such hit tunes as "Try to Remember" and "Soon It's Gonna Rain." A playful variation of the Romeo and Juliet theme, "The Fantasticks," is a sentimental musical for all ages.

Tickets are $12 for the general public and $10 for CLC students, staff and alumni. Call 543-2300 for ticket reservations.

'Road to Mecca'

Comprising theatre talent from Racine, Kenosha, Milwaukee, and UW-Parkside, the Upstart Theatre is presenting the first play of its 1997 summer season, Athol Fugard's moving drama, "The Road to Mecca." Upstart Theatre has established a reputation for presenting more challenging and cutting edge theatre productions than are found in most local venues. "The Road to Mecca" will run for two weekends, opening Wednesday, June 18 at 8 p.m. The theatre is located at the south end of the UW-Parkside Studio Theatre. Tickets are $8. Call (414)637-4565 for reservations.

'Nunsense'

"Nunsense," presented by Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre, will run through Aug. 17. The second-longest running Off-Broadway musical in history, "Nunsense" had been amusing audiences for over a decade. When Sister Julia, Child of God, prepares a tainted batch of vichyssoise, sending 54 of the 59 Little Sisters to meet their Maker, it is up to the five surviving sisters (spared by a fortuitously scheduled bingo game) to bury their dearly departed. The sisters put on a show to raise the needed funds, but not without more than a few complications.

Performances are Wednesdays at 2 and 8 p.m., Thursdays and Fridays at 8 p.m.; Saturdays at 5 and 8:30 p.m.; Sundays at 2:30 and 7 p.m.

Tickets to all performances are $33, senior citizens and students receive a $10 discount on all Wednesday performances, and Sunday 2:30 p.m. performances. For reservations, call 634-0200.

Wright tours

The Frank Lloyd Wright Home and Studio Foundation will offer a Junior Tour of the architect's first home and studio, Saturday, June 20 at 10 a.m. Junior tours are given by specially trained sixth through 10th graders or "Junior Interpreters." The tour departs from the Ginkgo Tree Bookshop, 951 Chicago Ave., Oak Park. Admission is $1.50 for ages 6 to 14 and $8 for adults. Children under 8 must be accompanied by an adult. Call (708)848-1976.

'Grandpa Dick'

Dick Breeden, of Wauconda, sometimes called "Grandpa Dick" for his oil paintings of rural life when wind, water, horse and hand power were in vogue. The simplicity of Grandma Moses art form appears in some of Breeden's paintings—hence the title "Grandpa Dick." During the month of June his paintings will be on display in the lobby of the Northern Illinois Medical Clinic, Rte. 31 in McHenry. He has titled his presentation "It Seems Like Only Yesterday," and all the scenes touch on life in northern Illinois from the turn of the century to pre-World War II.

Where In The World Is Playa del Carmen And Why Does My Cruise Ship Stop There?

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

You've decided to take the cruise you've always dreamed about. A western Caribbean cruise with stops at Ocho Rios and Grand Cayman sounds good. But the brochure shows a stop at Playa del Carmen. Playa del what??

Playa del Carmen is actually the closest port to Mexico's famous beach resort of Cancun, Mexico. It's also a short ferry ride across from Cozumel, an island well known by divers around the world.

This quaint Mexican town is also ideally located for excursions to archaeological sites like the Mayan ruins in Tulum and Chichen Itza.

If you want to do some shopping, take the Cancun city tour. A four hour tour should run about $30 and will include stops at the town markets. However, since it's easy to find your way around in Cancun, I'd suggest taking the shuttle offered by most ships for about $10 and go it on your own.

Of the many excursions to Mayan ruins, I would suggest a tour to the walled city of Tulum. Located about 35 miles south of Playa del Carmen, Tulum is perched on a 40 foot cliff overlooking the Caribbean. A climb to the top of one of the temples will give you an unforgettable view. Most tours to Tulum also include a swimming stop at lovely lagoon called Xel Ha (pronounced "shell-ha"), where fish are so tame they will eat out of your hand.

If you're a diver, Cozumel is where you want to spend the day. With over two dozen reefs and hundreds of wrecks, Cozumel has something for every diver's interest. My personal favorite dive spot is Palancar Reef just off the south shore. Here you'll find visibility up to 200 feet and some of the most spectacular coral formations in the Caribbean.

Finally, don't be confused if your itinerary shows only a one hour stop in Playa del Carmen and continues on to Cozumel. If you get off here you will be shuttled across the bay later to meet your ship in Cozumel.

So the problem with stopping in Playa del Carmen is not, "Is there anything to do?" but which of the many options do you choose.

Not all moving experiences bear repeating

When I watched Michael Jordan's heroic and ultimately game-winning performance in Game 5 of the finals against the Utah Jazz, despite the fact that he appeared so physically ill it hurt me just to look at him, I was moved to tears.

"What an athlete!" I thought. "What an inspiration! What a champion!"

And though the next game won the Bulls their fifth NBA championship, it is Game 5 that will stay with me. It was a truly moving experience, one that I could watch over and over again.

Coincidentally, my family and I were having our own moving experience during the finals, the difference being that we don't particularly want to remember it and we sure don't want to repeat it or threepeat it any time soon, thank you very much!

As anyone who has experienced moving knows (and who hasn't?), moving your family and their possessions from one home to another rates pretty high on the old stress-o-meter, and ours was no exception. Not only does it feel like you are leaving a part of your life behind, but it also forces you to take stock of your life and possessions. Here are just a few of the questions we had to face:

1. Exactly how many live spiders do you think there are in those dusty boxes in the crawlspace?
2. Why do the movers get testy when you pack a set of encyclopedias in one large, tidy box?
3. Do you think we have a shot at the Guinness Book of World Records for "world's largest dust bunny?"
4. How many teenagers does it take to help move? (None—ours took a "well-timed" vacation to Mexico during the move!)
5. Who remembers putting something green and fuzzy in a Tupperware container in the refrigerator, behind a vintage 1994 bottle of salad dressing?

LIFE'S A BEAR

Donna Abear

6. Will people laugh at me when they come to our moving sale and realize that I was, among other things, stupid enough to buy a Beta VCR?

Speaking of our moving sale, that may have been the most traumatic event of the whole move. Not only was it embarrassing setting out, on display in my driveway, all of the ridiculous and worthless junk that I wasted good money on over the years, but it was also an event that may have left permanent scars on my 3-year-old daughter. The sight of people buying toys she hadn't played with since she was 3-months-old was almost too much for her to bear.

Actually, my daughter was ready to inflict some of those permanent scars on one poor woman who had the bad luck to buy my daughter's former baby stroller. Fortunately, the woman escaped to her car with the stroller and began to drive away just as Samantha made it to the end of the driveway, screaming "This isn't over—I know where you live!"

Aside from the endless cleaning, packing, carrying, loading and unloading, I would have to say that another stressful part of moving is that span of up to a week when you are still trying to unpack all of your possessions at the new place. Most of our conversation during that time consisted of "Have you seen my—?" Which isn't unusual for our family, except that I was saying it, too. And when good old mom doesn't know where things are, the entire household starts to panic.

Still, despite being exhausted, we have survived the move, and are nearly settled into our new home (for now) in Heron Harbor, a place that actually lives up to its name—there are some real herons here (and I'm not talking about the neighbors!).

So now maybe I can make myself at home, relax and "take five."

Just like Mike and the Bulls.

Donna Abear can also be heard as a guest humorist on WXL 102.3 FM's morning show at 7:10 a.m. on alternate Mondays.

"ANYONE WHO HOPES TO BUILD THE BEST MANAGED CARE COMPANY IN ILLINOIS WILL HAVE TO GET BY US FIRST."

RAYMOND F. MCCASKEY, PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

No one in our business offers employers and their people more options - more networks and managed care plans - to choose from. And our first priority is quality. So Blue Cross gives you easier access to more of the finest doctors and hospitals in Illinois.

And we don't stop there. Now we're setting up even smarter networks. Including a new choice in our HMOs. All in order to broaden our ability to bring you benefits and costs that work, not only in theory, but in practice. So you can expect that the promises we make about performance will be kept. Right from day one.

Is there anybody else out there who can lay claim to being the best managed care company in Illinois? I don't believe so. But I know there will be challengers. We'll just stay on the track we've established and let the market be the judge."

Crisis, crash, Cage - 'Con Air'

The summer blockbuster action film season, filled with stars, special effects, spectacular smashes, and sensational sets is shooting full speed ahead, air speed that is.

Nicholas Cage, who seems to be taking every film offer he can get since his Academy Award, has opened in one of his big summer flicks, "Con Air." He's got "Face Off" with John Travolta waiting in the wings.

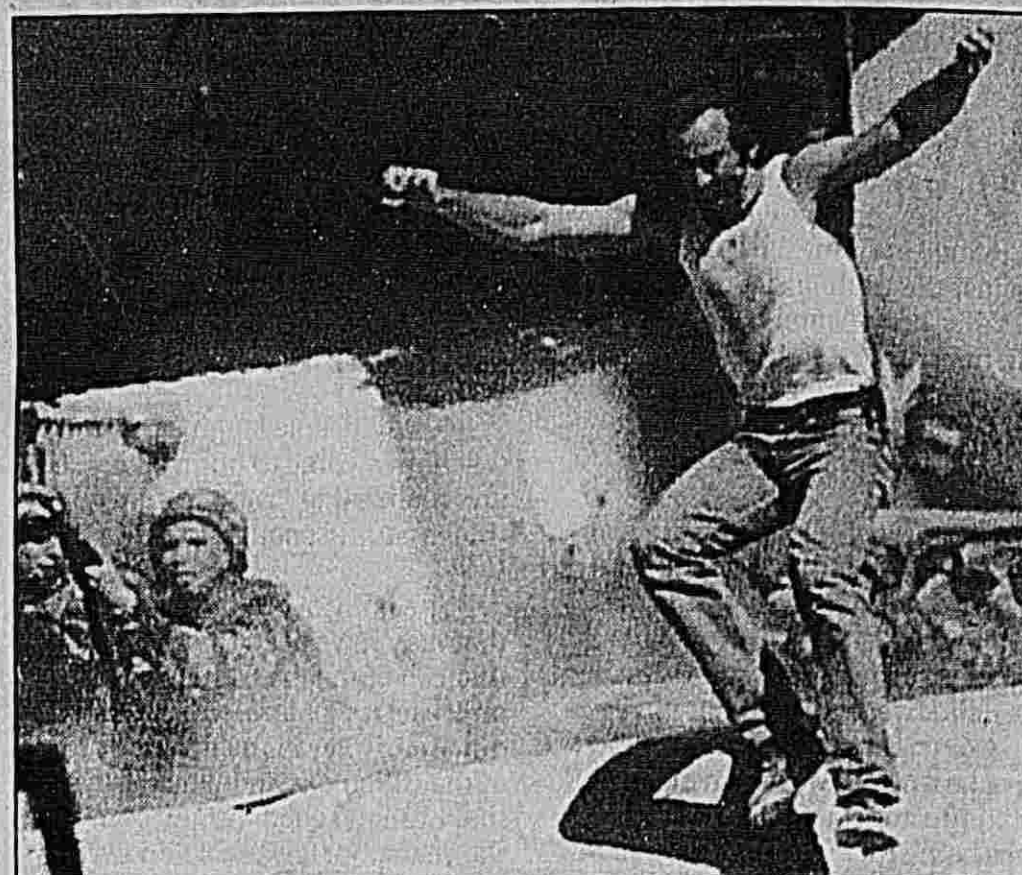

Take a bunch of chained convicts, put them in an airplane with some psychotic bad guys, and you have a hostage situation big-time that returns good-bad-guy Cage to Las Vegas in explosive style.

Cage, an ex-ranger, is a freed con who was in prison for years because he killed a barroom bully in protecting his wife.

The top bad bad guy, a mass murderer played by John Malkovich, who is escaping, is joined by the likes of Ving Rhames, a likeable murderer, Steve Buscemi, a Hannibal Lecter kind of serial killer, etc.

They are all cartoon sketches, as is Cage himself, looking scuzzy and doing an unbelievable hero put-on with a stage accent that's just too much!

Shades of every action cliché, "Con Air" is a veritable travesty on action thrillers Planet Hollywood style, especially when Las Vegas explodes in slow motion.

Joining the unbelievable is the most likeable, much too boyish, John Cusack, playing a federal marshal after the convicts.

The script is filled with groaner one liners instead of clever dialogue. Here we have a "Dirty Dozen" bunch of cons, who really don't accomplish anything but mayhem, unlike their predecessors, so the story is nonsensical, expensive, and you've seen it all before.

We give "Con Air," rated "R", running time 112 minutes, two out of five stars. It's just one big bright, banal, bang-filled bust.—By Gloria Davis

Camp Duncan offers family canoe trip

The father/son canoe trip held July 13 through 17 and the mother/daughter canoe trip held July 27 through 31 are trips designed for parent and child of all ages 12 years and up, parent and child will spend quality time together in an adventure based setting.

An orientation day scheduled for June 28, is for all participants who are going on either parent/child canoe trip.

Participants must be able to attend the orientation day in order to go on the trip. The orientation day includes canoe instruction, trip preparation and group building.

For each trip, participants will spend four nights and five days canoeing the remote and beautiful National Scenic Pere Marquette River which is a "gentle flowing" river ideal for the novice paddler.

Trip fees include van transportation from Camp Duncan to the river, food and trip equipment. Participants provide sleeping bag, personal items, and transportation to and from Camp Duncan. Each trip is limited to 12 participants and staff.

For more information call YMCA Camp Duncan, 546-8086.

Teachers to build rockets

Chicago-area seventh, eighth and ninth grade teachers are invited to participate in a science literacy workshop June 30 through July 19 at Columbia College's Science Institute, 623 S. Wabash. Teachers taking the 16-day workshop will receive a $960 stipend and can receive lane promotional credit.

Teachers will be engaged in standards-based instruction activities in life, earth and physical sciences. Planned activities include a field trip to the Indiana Dunes and building rockets, clocks powered by oranges, polyurethane "monster hands," glue from skim milk, carrot-and-gumdrop molecule models, and other creative low-cost experiments that teachers can bring into their classrooms.

HOROSCOPE

Aries - March 21/April 20

Summer's here, and the living is easy this week, Aries. The sunshine and warm temperatures put you in a great mood that carries over into everything that you do, from your career to your family life. Your happiness is contagious, and those around you will be "infected." Capricorn and Pisces play important roles.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

You get a little hot under the collar at work this week as a project you've been working on runs into problems. If you remain calm and collected, you can come up with a solution. A loved one is there to offer suggestions and listen to you vent. This will make your relationship stronger.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

The workweek flies by, Gemini. You have a lot of work to do, but it doesn't overwhelm you. You actually enjoy it. Family, on the other hand, will try your patience. Everyone calls on you for advice and assistance. Don't get angry. You have to remember that these people always have been there for you. Leo plays a role.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

A superior at work trusts you with confidential information. This confidence means that the higher-ups trust and respect you. Don't let them down by spreading rumors. A person from your past returns for a visit and wants to rekindle an old flame. Think about what happened before. Do you want history to repeat itself?

Leo - July 23/August 23

Work is hectic this week, Leo, but you can handle it if you focus on the tasks at hand. However, loved ones are worried about you, because you don't seem like yourself. Instead of being outgoing, you're acting shy. Don't let their concern make you self-conscious. You just need a little time to think.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

Your dependable nature won't fail you this week, which is a relief. You have a lot of appointments to keep, and a lot of people are counting on you. Don't get overwhelmed. A family member turns to you for advice. Make time for him or her, because he or she really needs you. Scorpio plays an important role.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

You have to make a crucial decision at work this week. Don't be rash; think about all of the pros and cons first. Ask for advice if you're not sure of what to do. That special someone is there for you. Don't let work's pressure keep you from developing your relationship.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

You must be determined this week, Scorpio, because you're faced with a lot of distractions. Get your priorities in order, and set an agenda for yourself. It is the only way to get anything done. A close friend needs you to be there for him or her. Don't let him or her down.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

Don't go off on tangents at work this week. A lot of people are depending on you to complete your work.

Keep your shoulder to the wheel — and your mouth closed! Your input will be needed for a family get-together. Help as much as you can. Gemini and Cancer play important roles.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

That stubborn streak of yours won't serve you well this week. Let your understanding side shine through if you want to accomplish anything. A loved one asks you a probing question. You can't avoid it, so just tell the truth. A secret admirer reveals his or her identity. It may shock you.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

With so much going on at work, it is hard for you not to overanalyze the situation. However, it is in your best interest to stay out of it and just do your own job — even if people try to drag you into the middle of the problem. Loved ones need your support this week. Taurus plays a role.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

It's time to make your move at work. You see the perfect opportunity to show your talent, and you have to take it. Don't worry — it will get you noticed. A close friend introduces you to someone with a lot of influence in your career field. Don't be shy. It's always good to have connections.

 Fresh steaks and seafood daily with just a touch of the Italian, all served at reasonable prices

Best steaks, seafood at Ocean Ranch

The residents of the Lake Zurich area have a new steak-seafood restaurant to go to. Veteran restaurateur, Gene Pontillo's latest Epicurean concept, The Ocean Ranch, is located at 66 W. Main St. in Lake Zurich.

Pontillo invites everyone, especially all his friends and old customers, to dine in the Victorian elegance of the historic Farman's Hotel. Each of the four dining rooms has its own special atmosphere.

Try the fresh Alaskan crab legs in the "bookish" aura of The Library, or how about a juicy fresh cut steak served in the cozy Fireplace Room. Maybe it's succulent surf and turf that's in demand, served in the attractive Garden Room, the main dining room, which seats 80 people.

Now that summer is here, the Sun Room, with its many windows bringing the outside in, is the perfect place to enjoy an entree of Shrimp De Jonge, or one of the many chicken or veal offerings.

Complimentary appetizers are served in the comfortable bar from 4 to 6 p.m., Monday through Friday. Live entertainment keeps the "joint jumping" on the week-ends.

Manager Bill Torres and his concerned, quick and knowledgeable staff are waiting to serve you the best lunch or dinner in town.

The Ocean Ranch serves lunch from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., Monday through Friday, and dinner from 5 p.m., seven days a week. The Sunday breakfast buffet, which offers everyone's favorite breakfast items, is served from 10:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Adults can brunch-it for $7.95 and children for $3.95, just a sample of the reasonable prices that adorn the Ocean Ranch's menu.

For more information, call (847) 540-1300.

Alzheimer's support

For those who care for Alzheimer's patients the Alzheimer's Support Group meets the first Tuesday of each month from 6 to 7:30 p.m. in the library of Lake Forest Hospital at Westmoreland. Staff from the hospital's Adult Day Care Program provide free care during the meeting for family members who require supervision. For more information, call 234-5600, ext. 5982.

One-on-One

One-on-One Nutritional Counseling is offered at Lake Forest Hospital, 660 N. Westmoreland, Lake Forest. Individualized nutritional planning by a personal weight counselor is offered. There is a fee for this service. For more information, call 234-5600, ext. 6801.

Sleep disorders

Sleep disorders health awareness and support group is offered for people who suffer from common sleep disorders. Different guest speakers are scheduled for each meeting, which is held every other month. For more information, call 234-6189.

MIDWESTERNLet's talk back

Most low back pain can be prevented if you know a few simple exercises and techniques for lifting correctly. Find out how to keep your back strong and healthy during a free presentation, Thursday, June 26 from 6 to 7 p.m., at Midwestern Regional Medical Center, 2520 Elisha Ave., Zion.

A physical therapist will lead an informal discussion and provide information about the anatomy of the back, how back pain occurs, and what you can do to prevent it or keep it from recurring. This is a free program, but seating is limited. To make a reservation, call Midwestern at 731-4109.

Stroke prevention

As a service to the community, a stroke prevention clinic will be held Saturday, June 28, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Midwestern Regional Medical Center, 2520 Elisha Ave., Zion. An ultrasound screening of the carotid arteries in the neck will be done to help determine the presence of plaque inside of the arteries which may be an early indicator of stroke. To schedule an appointment, call 731-4109.

GOOD SHEPARDStress management

A free mini-introduction class on stress for patients with cardiac and pulmonary histories will be offered at Good Shepherd Hospital, June 25 from 2 to 3 p.m. in the Lakeview Room. This month's presentation will be on "A Personalized Stress Profile: How Well Do You Manage Your Stress?"

The classes will be taught by Cheryl Borst, Psy.D., director of the Center for Stress Medicine and Rosie Jeretina, RN, coordinator of the Cardiac-Rehabilitation Program. To register or to get more information, call HealthAdvisor at 1(800)323-8622.

VICTORYWedding day

Victory Adult Day Center clients take part in their annual "Wedding Theme" day, Friday, June 20 at 2 p.m. A client at Victory Adult Day Center, 2000 Western Ave., Waukegan, will wear "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue" as she becomes the bride for the annual "Wedding Theme" day. This mock wedding allows the clients to participate either as members of the wedding party or guests while they reminisce about their own wedding days. For further information, call 360-4246.

Cardiology, surgery services receive gift

Auxiliary of Condell Medical Center presents department $275,000

Lois Haas, president of The Auxiliary of Condell Medical Center, presented a check for $275,000 for the support of cardiology and surgery services to Eugene Pritchard, president, at the medical center's annual meeting, held in the Dorothy Keene Allen Conference Center.

Haas noted that the total 1996 contribution to Condell from the auxiliary was $525,000 from the various activities and events held throughout the year including Volunteer Services, Annual Golf Outing, Benefit Gala 5, Blue Smock resale shops, Gift Corner, Handle with Care Estate Sales, and individual fund raising events by the Auxiliary.

Reviewing the history of the medical center, Haas noted that this year Condell celebrates the 70th anniversary of its founding, and that Pat DeWolf of Libertyville, will take office in November as Auxiliary president.

The Auxiliary's upcoming events include:

- Merit Club LPGA Charity Pro-Am Tournament, Libertyville, Monday, Aug. 25.

- Benefit Gala 6, Saturday, October 4, Twin Orchard Country Club, Long Grove.

- Auxiliary Book Fair, Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 27, 28 at Condell Medical Center.

Haas thanked the members of the auxiliary, administration and staff of the medical center and the community for their support during her tenure.

For additional information about The Auxiliary of Condell Medical Center, call 362-2905.

500 participate in 'Relay For Life'

Despite the rainy weather, over 500 people participated in the third annual Relay For Life, June 7, at Carmel High School in Mundelein. Fifty teams made up of eight to 12 people, ran or walked around the track and helped to raise over $112,000 for the Lake County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

Co-chairmen of the event were Carol Stovold of Lake Bluff and Rob Lang of Lake Zurich. Spokesperson for the event was 8-year-old Zachory Acosta of Prairie View, who is currently undergoing chemotherapy for leukemia.

The team who won the prize for raising the most money was Carol Stovold's Friends of John Ziebell of Buffalo Grove, who recently passed away from cancer.

The individual who brought in the most money was Beth Green of Mundelein. Running the most laps was Brent Stahlheber's Allstate Train Blazers, while the AC Hair Design team of Libertyville walked the most laps.

An inspirational closing ceremony was held, with luminaries being lit in memory of those who had died of cancer and in honor of those who have survived the disease. Each person's name was read as people walked around the track a final time.

Among those taking part were Linda and Bob Tassone of Lake Bluff, Darryl Didier and Pat Rodbro of Lincolnshire, Julie Jacobs of Winnetka, Dr. Michael Cochran of Hawthorn Woods.

Also, Peg Brantman and Pam DiPietro of Deerfield, Terry Duggan of Lake Forest, Sue Gieske of Libertyville, Also, Dr. Max Haid and Dr. Ellyse Lambiase of Highland Park Hospital and Pat Horan and his family of Barrington.

Pediatricians join Highland Park Hospital

Highland Park Hospital's pediatric care will be enhanced beginning this summer, with a cooperative effort from Children's Memorial Hospital. Four pediatricians from Children's have joined Highland Park Hospital's medical staff and will begin providing around-the-clock care in the Emergency Room and in a newly expanded Pediatric acute care unit this summer.

"The fact that this supplementary medical care is coming from the most respected children's health care provider in Chicago means wonderful things for our patients," says pediatrician Robert L. Levy, MD, chairman of Highland Park Hospital's Dept. of Pediatric and Adolescent Medicine. "It's extraordinary for our hospital to have a connection like this one with an academic medical center like Children's."

The pediatricians from Children's will be available to support and enhance the work of Emergency Room staff and primary care physicians, Dr. Levy notes.

That means a pediatrician will be on hand at all times to see children brought into the Emergency Room—if an Emergency Room physician requests it, if the child's primary care physician requests it or if the parents request it. "This will enhance care for young people in the Emergency Room because of the immediate access to knowledge of the unique character of pediatric illnesses and injuries," Dr. Levy says. "This raises the level of emergency care from the emergency nurse calling the patient's doctor at home to have a skilled specialist only steps away."

And although children will continue to be hospitalized under the direction of their permanent pediatricians and family physicians, the pediatric on-site physicians will be available to work closely with those permanent physicians throughout the day and to oversee care when the child's own physician is not in the hospital.

For more than a century, Children's has been a leader in health care for children, pediatric research, medical education, and child advocacy. Children's physicians are faculty members of Northwestern University Medical School.

Classic Chevy donates car to LaCASA

Entering the final building and fund-raising stages, Lake County Council Against Sexual Assault will offer a new automobile to a lucky winner at Gurnee Days.

The car and its two-year lease was donated by Classic Chevrolet. The car will be given to a lucky purchaser of $5 raffle ticket announced at Gurnee Days, Aug. 10.

"It is a worthy cause, part of giving back to the community," Julius Marks of Classic Chevrolet said.

To purchase tickets, contact any LaCASA volunteer or staff member, or call Ann Subry, LaCASA fundraising coordinator at 244-1187.

The LaCASA - Zacharias Center will be located on Grand Ave. The new building will be 12,500 square feet. Torrie Flink, executive director of LaCASA, gave Gurnee Mayor Richard Welton and Classic Chevrolet executives a tour of the almost-ready facility. It will include places for younger clients to play, storage room and offices.

"It will be an expansive area," she said, comparing it to the present Gurnee site.

The not-for-profit LaCASA offers comprehensive services to sexual assault survivors, and works to combat sexual assault by raising public awareness throughout Lake County.

The idea of raffling a car to benefit LaCASA's effort came from Classic Chevrolet sales manager Bill Smith.

Classic Chevrolet of Waukegan donates a Toyota Corolla toward fund-raising efforts for Lake County Council Against Sexual Assault (LaCASA). Dealership and LaCASA officials show off car in front of new LaCASA headquarters in Gurnee. Winner of a lease for the car will be announced at Gurnee Days. The Gurnee LaCASA site will be ready later this fall. HEALTH NOTES

Parent Group offers support

Every parent goes through times of stress, but there is a way to make parenting in the '90s a little easier. The Parent Group offers support and education groups for parents of teenagers as well as younger children. Come talk with other parents and learn new strategies that will help you raise healthier, happier children.

The Parent Group meets in Gurnee, Waukegan, and Lake Villa. All groups are professionally led and offer no cost child care during meetings. For details, call Amy Hudson at 263-7272.

Health career scholarships

Applications are now being accepted at the College of Lake County for the Donald Wasson Health Careers Scholarship established by Victory Memorial Hospital. A total of $3,000 in scholarships will be awarded to students who have completed one year of study in the nursing, nurse practitioner or medical transcription fields. The scholarships can be applied toward tuition, books, lab fees, transportation and other educational expenses for the 1997-98 school year.

Candidates must have a grade point average of 3.0 and submit a recommendation letter from a teacher, counselor or a health-care worker in their chosen field. They must also write an essay describing their commitments to the health field. The application is June 30. To receive an application, call the CLC financial aid office at 223-3610.

Support group for grandparents

A support group, AGAIN, for grandparents who are raising their grandchildren will be held June 26, July 28, Aug. 25 and Sept. 22 at 7 p.m. at the Condell Acute Care Center, downstairs, 2 E. Rollins Rd., Round Lake Beach.

The meeting is open to any grandparents who are involved in the full-time care giving of their grandchildren or kin. For information, call, 546-5653.

Condell honors volunteers

Condell Medical Center, 801 S. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville honored more than 240 volunteers at its 32nd Annual Awards Ceremony and luncheon at the Country Squire Restaurant in Grayslake. According to Lyn Weber, director of Volunteer Services, "In 1996, these hard-working, dedicated volunteers donated 45,121 hours serving in more than 50 areas of the medical center including the affiliated Acute Care Centers, Day Center for Intergenerational Care, and Centre Club."

In addition to the surprise announcements of the winner of the Fred MacKenzie Award, a perpetuating award which represents the spirit of volunteers, and the 1996 Volunteer of the Year Award, volunteers from throughout Lake County also received special service awards.

Having served as a Condell volunteer for 14 years, Marion Potter of Grayslake received the Fred MacKenzie Award, which honors a volunteer who has donated five or more years of exemplary service. Potter, who was the 1989 Volunteer of the Year, also received the 10,000-hour award. However, she currently has donated almost 11,000 hours of service. She spends three days a week volunteering in public relations and marketing, food services, patient discharges, and volunteer services. Not only does she take work home, she is a busy participant in community activities.

James Dolan of Libertyville received the 1996 Volunteer of the Year Award. Donating 1,647 hours, he began serving as a volunteer in 1983. After a leave of absence, Dolan returned in 1985. He currently serves in the Condell Day Center for Intergenerational Care. He also is a representative at Condell for the state-sponsored SHIP program which provides insurance assistance to elderly individuals of the community.

Other volunteers received special recognition for their outstanding contribution of service hours to Condell Medical Center: John "Chris" Hinrichsen and William Athanatos, both of Mundelein, received the 15,000-hour award and the 12,000-hour award, respectively; Janice Savidis of Libertyville, received the 9,000-hour award; Mildred Magnus of Libertyville, the 8,000-hour award; Lillian Pinney of Libertyville and Barbara Subject of Grayslake, both received the 6,000-hour award; Edward Martinek of Vernon Hills and Richard Schroeder of Round Lake Beach, both received 4,000-hour awards; and Grace Koffell of Libertyville, Charles Savidis of Libertyville, and Anna Mae Stelling of Gages Lake, all received 3,000-hour awards.

Recipients of the 1,000-hour award were Charlotte Beutlich and Helen Craig, both of Libertyville; Sheila Carey and Karen Hinrichsen, both of Mundelein; Margaret Carlson and Mary Dalrymple, both of Grayslake, and Jennie Marler of Waukegan.

Five Hundred-hour awards were presented to Stacie Ford of Mundelein, and Joan Jennings, Vee Nolan and Joann Seal, all of Libertyville.

The 100-hour award was presented to Janis Adams, Libia Botero, Carolyn Fitzpatrick, Mary Ann Forch, Victoria Hutson, and Joanna Maszek, all of Mundelein; Kimberly Adesko of McHenry; Doris Anderson, formerly of Vernon Hills.

Jennifer Browett, Elizabeth Coates, Eleanor Crisp, Patricia DeWolf, Gerry Herr, Leslie Jennings, Ellie Meitner, Eva Nuccio, Velma Stewart, and Madeleine Warner, all of Libertyville.

Other 100-hour award recipients were Robin Delpierre, Diane Kershner, and Dorothy Yedinak, all of Gurnee; Sheila Gohs of Park City; Merle Jakaitis and Jennifer Kopach, both of Grayslake; Marilyn Jones and Betty Ann Williams, both of Vernon Hills; and Ethel Long and Arthur Schotz, both of Buffalo Grove.

I was treated for prostate cancer two days ago. Today, I'm back in the field.

New advances in the treatment of prostate cancer have made it possible for many men to get back to their normal routine, even as soon as two days after treatment.

One of the treatments which provides this benefit is seed implantation, a non-surgical, outpatient procedure which places a radiation source, or "seeds", inside of the prostate. Once inside, the seeds deliver radiation directly to the prostate, attacking the cancer while you continue your normal daily routine.

Seed implantation therapy is just one of several treatment options for prostate cancer available at Midwestern Regional Medical Center, one of the most highly rated hospitals in the U.S.* Midwestern's cancer program is managed by Cancer Treatment Centers of America.

In addition to advanced medical care, Midwestern also offers support therapies including diet planning, vitamin and mineral supplementation, support groups, counseling and pastoral care.

Clinic to prevent post-smoking weight gain available for women

Weight gain occurs so commonly after quitting smoking that it can seem inevitable. Past attempts to prevent post-smoking-cessation weight gain have either proved ineffective or had the adverse effect of increasing the risk for relapse to smoking. In a research program that is open to female community members, Drs. Bonnie Spring and Gina Pingitore are testing a promising behavioral treatment that may offer smokers the health benefits of quitting smoking without unwanted weight gain. The program philosophy is that most prior treatment approaches have failed because of their overwhelming complexity.

Spring and Pingitore's current NIH grant provides free stop-smoking treatment to female smokers at Hines VA Hospital or the Univ. of Illinois at Chicago. If the trial is successful, future studies will be extended to men.

All interested participants should call Dr. Heather Breiter at 578-3311 or (708)343-7200, ext. 2828.

Use time-saving equipment to increase garden enjoyment

If you're like most Lake County gardeners, you'd love to have a beautiful vegetable garden but don't know where to find the time. The answer? Join the increasing number of on-the-go gardeners who are effectively using timesaving equipment.

The main consideration in productive, time-efficient gardening is determining your specific needs. With this in mind, you will be able to decide the types of equipment necessary to get you on your way. This means that you will have to decide how large, or small, you wish to plant your garden. You will also want to determine the kind of soil you have in order to choose tools and equipment designed for your garden type.

Here's a list of equipment to get you started and keep you going:

Digging tool

When planning a garden of small to medium size, you'll generally find that simple handheld tools are the way to go.

A trowel is probably the most used gardening tool, since it is both functional and versatile. It can be used indoors when starting seeds early and outside for all types of gardening tasks. When selecting a trowel, look for a strong steel shank that connects the blade to the handle. The shank is the part that receives the greatest stress and is usually the place where a trowel will wear out first.

A transplanter is a trowel with a narrow blade marked off in inches and will assist you in determining the soil depth of nursery plants, bulbs and tubers.

A 3-claw hand cultivator is perfect for breaking small sections of compacted soil. It is also useful for removing unwanted growths such as weeds and crabgrass.

Hoes, rakes, forks

A rugged garden hoe is a familiar and productive gardening tool that you can use for chopping dirt clods, making furrows, digging out weeds and hilling potatoes.

A garden rake aids in the task of spreading peat moss before tilling and smoothing the seedbed before planting.

Perfect for the small garden, a spading fork can be used to turn a small plot by hand. It is also useful in turning compost and spreading peat moss.

Watering supplies

To ensure that your vegetable garden receives the proper amount of moisture throughout the season, watering supplies are of the utmost importance.

There are many types of hoses available. The most common type is made to carry water to a sprinkler head. These can be made of plastic, polyvinyl or heavy-duty rubber. While rubber hoses generally last the longest, plastic and polyvinyl hoses will be adequate in situations when your garden requires little spraying. A soaker hose if filled with tiny holds and, when properly positioned in your garden, will provide a constant, gentle application of water directly onto your vegetation.

For watering a large garden, an oscillating sprinkler can be used. The sprinkler head moves in a back-and-forth pattern to cover a large area more quickly.

Walk-behind tillers

When working on a large garden, you'll often find that larger equipment is needed.

A compact tiller is a rugged helper that will save you hours of work. These tillers range from two to three and one-half horsepower and till a path anywhere from six to 36 inches wide, meaning they're perfect for preparing a small to medium garden seedbed. Heavy-duty walk-behind tillers provide greater horsepower and wider tilling widths for extra-large gardens. If you elect to purchase a heavy-duty model, be sure to get one with reverse drive. This will allow you to back away from fences and maneuver out of corners without strain.

Tractor-mounted implements

If you already own a lawn and garden tractor and are planning a large garden, you can add a tiller attachment for fast seedbed preparation and cultivation. Tractor-mounted tillers range from 30 to 48 inches wide. Most are mechanical and run off the tractor PTO; some models run off the tractor hydraulic system.

A hydraulic tiller can be mounted to the tractor for standard forward tilling. This mounting is recommended for tilling soft soil and for cultivating. The tiller can also be mounted "backward," which provides a counterrotating time action that helps the tiller break up hard soil and sod more thoroughly in one pass.

A dumpcart is another useful tool which will aid you and your tractor in hauling such things as large bales of peat moss, heavy bags of fertilizer, lime and sand or compost. Dumpcarts range from a capacity of 5.75 cubic feet and a 400-pound load to eight cubic feet and a 900-pound load.

Lastly, if you discover that your large garden is under attack by insects or disease, you may wish to invest in a tractor-mounted sprayer which can carry gallons of spray and insecticide.

Whether you're planning a large or small vegetable garden this year, make sure that you have the proper timesaving equipment designed for your specific needs.

Water gardens making waves

Would you like to spend a little less time getting your hands dirty this summer, but still enjoy the pleasures of gardening? Then consider building a water pond, a creative alternative to the "average" garden.

Whether they're long and narrow, oval, round, free-form or raised to fit into a deck or patio, the popular ponds are making a big splash with do-it-yourselfers because they fit into just about any budget.

The water garden is really nothing more than a manmade pond with a liner to contain the water, a pump to circulate it, and a filter to aid in keeping it clean and clear.

A small goldfish pond can be built in about a half-day and cost under $300, while a larger garden with a waterfall may take an entire weekend to complete.

Water gardens have become a great source of relaxation and a fun hobby as homeowners discover the rewards of building their own pond.

Here is a checklist for building a water garden:

Location

Choose a site with at least four hours of sunlight, preferably in the morning because mid-day rays encourage algae growth. Select a level spot, protected from water runoff which may contain fertilizers or herbicides.

Size

First draw your design on paper and then lay it out on the ground, using a garden hose to decide upon the shape.

You'll need to measure it so you can purchase the right size liner. Don't forget to have your utilities marked before you dig so that you don't disturb buried power lines in the process.

Construction

Begin with the deepest point. A standard depth is 18 inches, but if you add fish, you will need to dig down two to three feet. The bottom of the pond should be flat, so make sure it is level. Remove all rocks, cut back roots in the basin and add about two inches of sand before putting the liner in place.

Drape the liner in the hole and anchor the edges with weights to preserve its position and form. Use native stone, boulders or discarded brick to finish the edges. Fill the pond with water to just below ground level.

Pump/filter

Ponds without pumps generally require more care and upkeep. You may not need a pump if you keep the algae growth and ammonia levels in check and maintain a balance between oxygenating plants and have a minimal number of fish.

A pump will keep the water circulating and therefore will cut down on constant upkeep. For a distinctive touch, try connecting a fountain or waterfall to the pump.

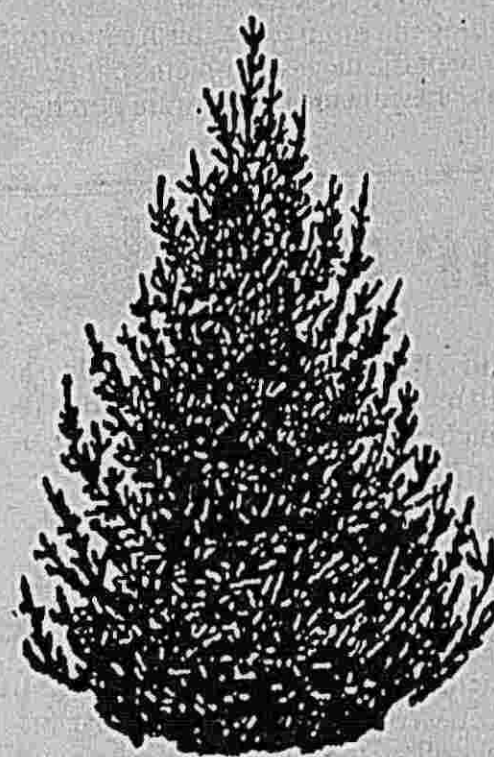

The filter is used to collect decaying organic matter. To assure complete filtration, locate the pump and filter at one end of the pond, then run discharge tubing to the opposite end. This will ensure that the entire pond is thoroughly filtered.

Plants and fish

Add one bunch of submerged plants for every one to two square feet of pond surface. Plant lilies in containers and set them on submerged rocks.

Japanese ornamental fish known as koi have become popular in water gardens, but many pond owners are content with stocking only gold fish. Plan on one inch of fish per foot of pond surface.

Teenagers! They can sometimes drive you nuts!

Teenagers! They can drive ya nuts! My belief is, if you can manage to not be intimidated by them and also be able to understand them better, you will do far better in dealing with them. Not getting intimidated is really the tricky part because they can be very intimidating. Due to the popularity of this problem, the following column is repeated from Oct. 11, 1996.

Dear Dr. Singer,
I have a 12-year-old daughter who seems constantly angry at me and my husband when

PARENT'S PLACE

Sherri Singer,
Psy.D.

we try to limit her social activities that seem too risky for her age. She accuses me of being too protective and embarrassing her in front of her friends. I need to make sure she doesn't get in trouble and also want to make sure that she is doing the right thing, especially with the risks out there today. Am I wrong to get in the way? H.K.

Dear H.K.,

No, you're not wrong! Quite honestly, I'm impressed with your commitment to your child. Many times, it seems easier to give in to the haranguing and let the kid do what he or she wants to. The danger in this is the risks you mentioned.

Think back to when you were a teenager. You and I both felt that we were old enough to make our own decisions and that parents were evil people who had nothing better to do than get in the way! Now look back and tell me that you really were able to make those decisions clearly. I'll tell you that when I look back, I thought I was ready and now know I was nowhere near ready.

When dealing with a teen or preteen, you have to understand that you cannot be "friends" with this child unless you are willing to give in to every desire. Most parents I know do not want to do that, for the child's sake. Being friends takes a back seat to making sure the child survives and thrives. If you can expect that you will get some, "guff" from the teen, it's easier to handle. The reality of this situation is, when there's risk, a parent's job is to get in the way and reduce or get rid of the risk.

Raising a teen is really no different than raising a younger child in terms of rules being followed to get privileges. I usually work with parents to stand their ground and make sure that the child does not have the access to up the ante if the child threatens to do so. I highly suggest that if your teen is out of control beyond what you feel able to deal with successfully, you need to access some professional help to get it under control.

Keep in mind that certain behavior is normal. At that time in life, the child is trying to separate from the family, acquire his or her own identity and feel competent. Those things are all OK when kept within reason.

I usually tell teenagers that they have two choices. One choice is to follow parent's appropriate rules, tell the truth, and do the right thing so they can keep their freedom and have all their privileges and parent's trust.

The second option is to not follow rules, lie, and then ultimately lose their freedom, privileges and parent's trust. Most teenagers I've talked to agree with the first option, at least in words. They may not like it, but they agree. The earlier you start setting rules and limits, the easier it will be.

One last thing: Embarrassing a kid in front of friends does nothing to help rules get followed or relationships to be good.

Discussions can happen away from friends. Make sure you are being appropriate in your rules and it will work itself out in the future. Good luck.

Task of the month—fertilizing

Believe it or not, the month of June is quickly coming to an end. The spring certainly did fly by, and our weather has been especially chilly, but hopefully the weatherman (like, he has anything to do with it) will cooperate and the summer will be warm and sunny.

One of the main tasks of the month should be fertilizing to support the rapid growth in the spring and summer. We can do this by providing nutrients in the form of fertilizers. Generally, organic fertilizers are less concentrated, remain available to plants over a longer period of time, and are more environmentally safe. They allow the growth of microorganisms that contribute to soil and plant health. Fish emulsion and well rotted chicken manure are good examples.

Synthesized commercial fertilizers are more concentrated, bring more immediate results, and leach out more quickly from the soil. Both are available in liquid, powder or granular form. (Time-release granules are a more expensive option that can be used for potted plants).

Fertilizer labels have three numbers that indicate the percentage of the major nutrients: nitrogen (N) phosphorus (P) and potassium (K) in that order. Nitrogen fosters lush green leaves and shoots; phosphorus supports strong root growth, flower formation, and fruit development; and potassium promotes fruit formation and overall plant vigor.

Follow these guidelines for fertilizing. To avoid burning be sure plants are watered well before fertilizing, even if using a liquid fertilizer. Follow label directions for recommended doses. Fertilize seedlings often with diluted applications. Time applications with the natural growth cycles of the plant. For example cut back feeding at the end of summer, when cold temps could subject tender new growth to frost damage.

Other things to do in the beginning of summer: continue to mulch around shrubs, veggies and flower beds. Prune shrubs as they finish flowering. Trim hedges. Prune suckers, weak branches and branches growing in the wrong direction.

For roses, make sure you fertilize well as they are heavy feeders. Cut back faded blooms to a healthy outside bud with five leaflets. When watering, avoid wetting foliage, as this contributes to black spot disease; water from the bottom of the plant.

You can still direct sow perennials (they will bloom next year). Be sure you mark where planted. Pinch faded blooms (dead heading) on annuals to keep them blooming.

Summer is the gardeners' favorite season and with it brings much work, but it is work that rewards us a 1,000 fold. Enjoy the season, peace.

Seniors get ready to celebrate

Senior citizens are invited to pack a picnic lunch, put on their dancing shoes and head to the Lake County Forest Preserves' 25th Annual Seniors Day Celebration, Wednesday, June 25, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., at Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda.

Seniors will enjoy a free, fun-filled day of musical entertainment including Dixieland music by the Banjo Buddies, and the big band sounds of the Ron Smolen Orchestra followed by the ever-popular Guy Lombardo Orchestra.

Refreshments, bingo, horse-drawn wagon tours of Lakewood Forest Preserves and horseshoes are some of the popular activities offered again this year.

The Chain O'Lakes Model A Club will take seniors for a drive down memory lane with their display of 1920s and 1930s vintage cars. And, seniors will enjoy visiting the Lake County Museum for an exciting journey through regional history. All Lake County centenarians will receive special recognition, and the Seniors Day "King and Queen of the Day" contest winners will be crowned at noon.

Representatives from Secretary of State George Ryan office will provide senior drivers and non-drivers, ages 65 and over, with free photo ID's. Representatives will be on hand from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. to take picture ID's.

The ID's provide seniors and persons with disabilities an additional form of personal identification. Seniors interested in getting a free photo ID must bring their social security card and two forms of additional identification that states their name, date of birth, residency, and signature.

Over 60 exhibitors will be on hand this year to provide seniors with information and product samples on a wide range of health care and other senior services.

Other exhibitors include: Steele Home Health Care; the Center for Corrective Eye Surgery; Suburban Hearing Services; the American Red Cross; Palliative Care Center of the North Shore; Optelec; Gurnee Mills; Odyssey Cruises; Cross Chiropractic; and Covenant Village of Northbrook. Most Lake County hospitals will offer a variety of free health screenings, and social service agencies will be on hand to inform seniors of available services.

The event is free and open to ages 55 and better. Reservations are not required. Seniors are encouraged to pack a picnic lunch and bring a lawn chair.

Seniors Day is made possible by: Golden Sponsors Firststar Bank and the Walgreens Company; Contributing Sponsors MetLife, Marriott Lincolnshire Theatre and Hillcrest Nursing Home; The News-Sun; WAIT AM 850; WKRS News 1220; and by the many local businesses, volunteers and organizations who help make it a success.

For more information on the Seniors Days Celebration, call 367-6640.

Lakewood Forest Preserve is located on Rte. 176, just west of Fairfield Road near Wauconda.

Bikers indicted in racketeering

A Gurnee resident who is a leader of a Janesville, Wis. based motorcycle owners group and Lindenhurst man are two of the 17 people now facing federal racketeering charges.

Kevin P. "Spike" O'Neill, who lists a Stearns School Road address and James Rostrom of Lindenhurst were charged in a federal indictment earlier this month. They will appear in federal court for a status hearing later this month.

The indictment charges the Chicago Region of the Outlaws motorcycle gang is an "enterprise violating the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act (RICO). The incidents took place from Jan. 1, 1988 to May 30, 1997 and include arson and murder cases.

"The defendants were all arrested without incident at their homes at 6:30 a.m., June 3, by members of the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Task Force and Lake County Sheriff's Dept.," Jerry Singer, spokesperson for the ATF office in Chicago, said.

He said O'Neill, 40, is listed in about 30 of the indictments.

"The indictment charges the Outlaws are more than a motorcycle club. They are a sophisticated and dangerous organized crime group which has repeatedly resorted to bombings and murder to protect their ongoing criminal activities," Thomas Schneider, U.S. Attorney general for southeastern Wis. said.

The Chicago region of the Outlaws includes Janesville, Gary and Milwaukee chapters.

Some of the incidents are acts aimed at rival Hells Angels Motor-

Schmidt promises to keep Lake County on gov's agenda

By RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor in Chief

Calling himself a moderate, mainstream candidate, Democratic hopeful for governor John Schmidt believes Lake County is critical for his campaign's success.

"I know Lake County well," Schmidt said in an early pre-announcement visit to Lake County. "I grew up in Evanston and have spent a lot of time in Lake County enjoying the Chain O'Lakes and such."

Schmidt believes his moderate views are in line with voters in Lake County.

"I really think the battle ground is in the collar counties," Schmidt said. "A Democratic candidate with my record of strong business support can do well. The collar counties are not locked-in Republican voters like many people believe. The collar counties have many independent voters who look at a candidate's record first."

record first."

Schmidt says after 22 years of Republican leadership in the Governor's chair, the state is ready for a change at the top.

"I think a new party can come in and hold the line on spending and not feel beholden to anyone," Schmidt said. "We need to get government bureaucracy under control."

Schmidt believes school funding reform will continue to be one of the top issues facing the state.

He favors a state-wide income tax increase along with property tax rebates to fund education.

"I think people are leery of the idea because they don't believe that property tax rebates will be 'real,'" Schmidt said. "The lottery was supposed to be the answer to funding schools and it has never increased school funding the way it should."

Schmidt does not favor using new revenue to fund education because "there may come a year when the new growth is not sufficient." "Increasing the tax base will give the state a growing source of revenue as the property tax goes down," Schmidt said.

Schmidt believes Gov. Jim Edgar's lack of credibility on the issue of school funding reform hurt him in his efforts to get his plan passed through the state legislature.

"Just a couple of years ago, he blasted his opponent for the same plan and then he comes back and tries to sell it. It is not surprising he lacked support even in his own party," Schmidt said. "I think voters across the state have a common interest in school funding reform."

Schmidt does not have a position on the extension of Rte. 53 at this time but is pleased to see the tollway authority finally being looked at for reforms.

Schmidt was Chicago Mayor Richard Daley's first chief of staff and was the Illinois chairman of the Clinton campaign in 1992. He also served as the U.S. ambassador for the world trade talks which produced the GANT agreement and lead the Navy Pier and McCormick Place redevelopment project.

He is expected to make his official announcement in late July.

Malamute Rescue 'always needs right owner'

By MARLENE BROWN
Correspondent

There is both a sense of excitement and a sense of urgency when speaking with Nancy Biglow, Illinois Coordinator of the Illinois Alaskan Malamute Rescue Assn., Inc. (IAMRA). The urgency is because since 1991 when they began adopting or fostering dogs, there has never been a time when they didn't need "the right owner" and/or donations for their operating expenses.

A few owners and breeders of Malamutes were approached by vets, shelters and individuals who had Malamutes to place. They couldn't turn down the requests. Although they began taking in dogs before officially organizing, in 1991, IAMRA rescued their first dog, Cody, who became the model for their notecards and some Christmas cards. IMARA grew rapidly from that point. Volunteers fostered dogs, others checked out dogs that owners wanted to give away, and others took dogs to vets or boarding kennels.

There is a process for adopting an Alaskan Malamute, but it isn't a cumbersome one. The person completes an application, after receiving information about the breed. Then IAMRA works to match the people with the dog. The adoption includes spaying/neutering, all current shots, heartworm clearance, and checking for attitude with children, other dogs and if possible, cats. The current fee is just $100.

Another aspect of the organization's "mission" is to accept dogs from individuals who can no longer care for them. Sometimes it is because of illness or moving. Experienced Malamute owners check out the dog in question, and if accepted, the owner is asked to donate $50, to provide possible boarding in a kennel until someone adopts or fosters it.

Alaskan Malamutes are very special dogs. They are the oldest and the largest sled dog native to North America. Pound for pound they might be the strongest dogs on earth. Although they are happy to pull a sled, they are equally glad to accompany a backpacker or casual walker.

The dog is native to the Inuit people who inhabited the shores of the Kotzebue Sound. They are heavy-boned, and have brown eyes. Most Malamutes are gray with white trim or black and white. The average weight for males is 85 pounds, and females, 75 pounds. They are skilled in hunting and fishing, and excel in weight-pulling.

As a breed, they have a sunny disposition. Nancy Biglow is quick to tell you that the Malamute works and lives with you, not for you. The typical dog is friendly to humans, and develop deep, complex attachments to their owners. As powerful as they are, they might enjoy retrieving tennis balls and Frisbees. Some even love to swim. Most of them like car rides, but are quite content to share time with Cody, one of the first dogs rescued by the Illinois Malamute Rescue Association, has become the model for the group's note and Christmas cards.

Regional education office gets grant for alternative school

Earlier this spring, the Illinois State Board of Education awarded the Lake County Regional Office of Education a combined Planning/Implementation grant totaling $779,620 to establish and operate an alternative school program for students who are eligible for suspension or expulsion in their respective school districts.

According to Edward Gonwa, Regional Superintendent of Schools, the purpose of this program is to offer eligible students and school districts an option to the current practice of excluding a student from school because of a violation of a school's discipline policy that warrants either suspension or expulsion by a board of education. By creating an alternative school program for this type of student, Gonwa hopes to provide an environment where participating students will be able to continue their education while at the same time receive a wide range of support services to enable them to make a successful transition back to their home district.

Once referral of a student is made to the program by a participating school district, an Alternative Education Plan (AEP) will be developed prior to the student's start in the program. Each student's AEP will include enrollment date, exit date, curriculum, credit, and individual goals regarding referral to the program. Through satisfactory participation in the alternative school program, it is hoped that students will improve their compliance with school/district discipline policies, improve/maintain school attendance, and improve/maintain their academic performance.

Gonwa also announced that Kathy Kistenfeger has been appointed to serve as the principal of the alternative school program which is officially known as the ROE (Regional Office of Education) Alternative Program of Lake County. A five week pilot program for eligible students in grades 9 and 10 was held during May and June at the Zion-Benton Pearce Campus.

A four-week summer component will be held from June 16 to July 9 at the Pearce Campus for eligible students in grades 9 to 12. Students are scheduled to meet every Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. and will be offered a tutorial program as determined through the AEP (Alternative Education Plan) Conference.

Starting in August, 1997, a fully implemented alternative school program will be offered at the same campus for eligible students in grades 6 to 12.

For further information regarding student eligibility, referral procedure and curriculum, contact Kathy Kistenfeger, program director, at 872-1900.

AT A GLANCE

A DIGEST OF STORIES MAKING HEADLINES THROUGHOUT OUR REGION

Auto Nation wins Gurnee approval

Gurnee—If all goes according to plan, late-model used vehicles will be rolling from the automobile sales floors from USA Auto Nation in January.

Gurnee trustees approved the special use permit request from USA Auto Nation for its site at Dilley's Road and Route 132. Before the first vehicle is sold, the developer will have to put in millions in public improvements such as road network improvements and a 14 foot berm along Dilley's Road.

Following trustees' unanimous approval of the revised plan, a citizens committee will be established from the closest neighbors.

Those who have followed the six months of hearings which netted concessions from the second car dealership in Gurnee held steadfast to their opposition to the end.

"I'm still against it. My property values will go down," neighbor Julian Mitchell said.

Mitchell and others later described their feelings as "blatantly ignored" by trustees. Some 750 Westgate and Pembroke residents signed petitions against the Auto Nation plan, but all trustees, even the most vocal were later swayed that the plan was the best use for the land.

Auto Nation has stated it hopes to generate $1.6 million a year in sales tax revenue.

Bullet lodged in victim's spine

Round Lake Beach—A bullet is lodged inside the spine of Jeff Hurley, 19, of Round Lake Beach after being shot at least seven times, police said.

Police officials are trying to piece together why Hurley was shot at the Cedar Villas, 1975 Cedar Lake Road on June 11. They are sorting out several conflicting stories.

He was taken to Condell Medical Center. It was determined that surgery is too risky because of the position of the bullet. He has since been released.

ACHS presents $8M building plans

Antioch—In three public meetings, Antioch Community High School officials explained how they will spend $8 million to transform 80-year old building parts into a first rate education center for 2,000 students in the year 2002.

Before a second high school is built to serve the district's student population, the school board, according to Superintendent Dr. Dennis Hockney "had to take the first initiative and upgrade our current campus." He said the goal is to "bring it up to date... and be the kind of school that was not looked at as second-rate compared to a new school."

"The district expects to fund the work through internal operations using a bonding instrument called a certificate of participation."

School nears referendum

Lake Villa—District 41 officials are finalizing a building bond referendum package for the November elections.

Officials are gathering cost estimates for a new K-5 school building, a 10-room school addition and school repairs. The school board is expected to have the costs in about a month.

The board hopes to have the new school ready for 1999. All of the current school buildings are at or above capacity.

Catholic school may expand

Wauconda—Parishioners of Transfiguration Church with young children are pleased that the church has offered to expand its kindergarten program to meet their needs.

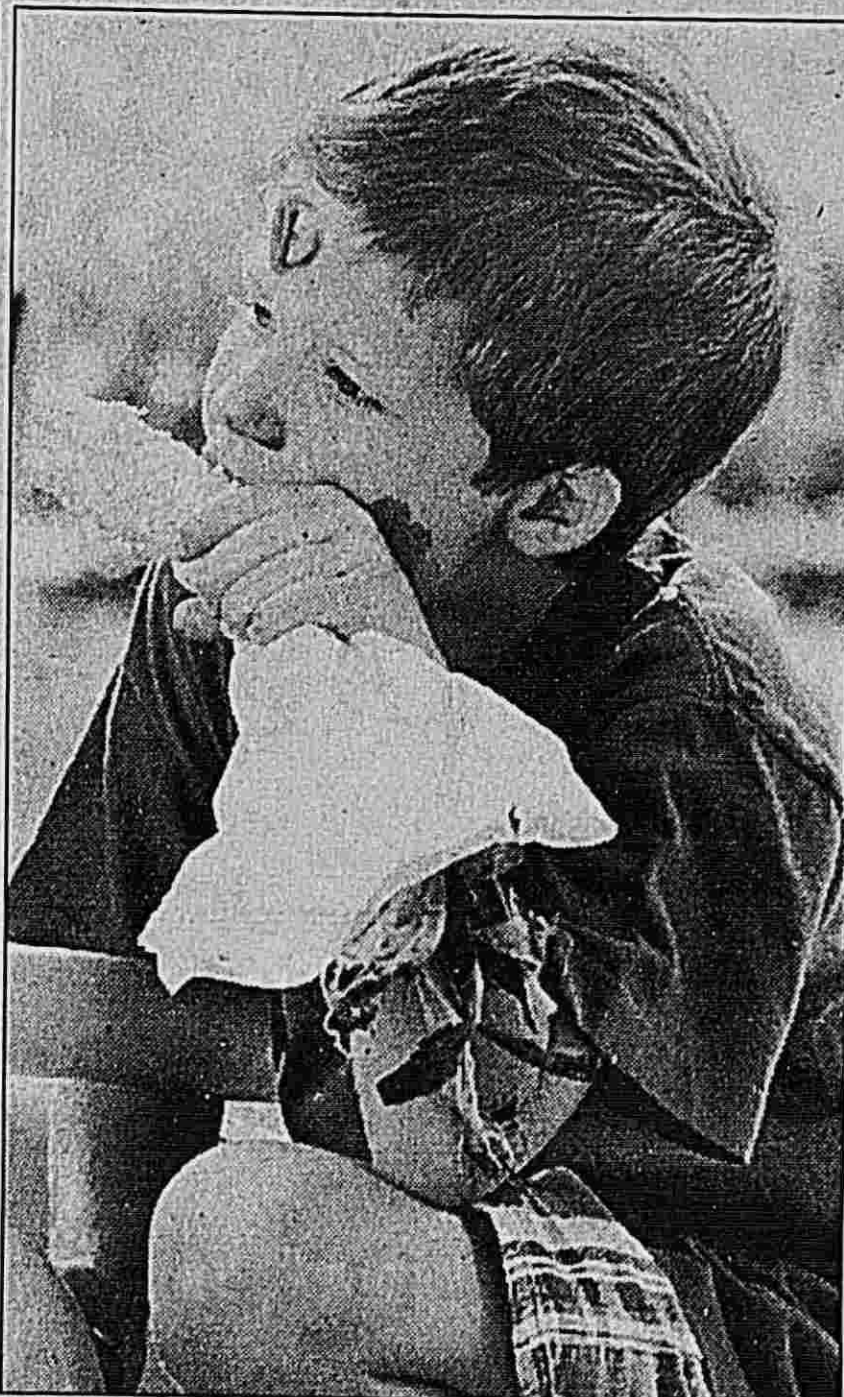

For years Transfiguration School has held a lottery to determine who was accepted into the full-day kindergarten class, and who was left on a waiting list. As the list grew longer, parents grew unsatisfied.

So, to meet their demands, the church will offer a half-day kindergarten to mirror the full-time class should 15 parents register their children by June 20.

IDNR offers supervision

Fox Lake—Despite a strongly-worded letter from the Illinois Department of Natural Resources Office of Water Resources Director Donald Vonnahme, the Fox Waterway Agency will be able to continue operations through the summer under the part-time supervision of one of the IDNR's engineers.

On June 12, Vonnahme offered the services of Anthony Muzereus to the agency to avoid a suspension of its use of department equipment. Muzereus is to supervise operations at the agency for up to two days per week while it searches for a replacement for out-going Executive Director Karen Kabbes.

Old Mill Creek—Old Mill Creek heard its first presentation from a firm it hired to conduct a study on a village wide water system to "forecast the water demands of the village."

"We're doing the water study to be prepared for development when it comes so we can say this is what we'll be doing," said President Paul Koppen. "The developers will cause it to come into effect."

The final plan will be incorporated into the village's unified development code, similar to a comprehensive plan but larger in scope.

Boys fondled in Vernon Hills stores

Vernon Hills—Vernon Hills police are alerting parents to keep a close eye on their children after two young boys reported being molested in two separate incidents at local retail centers.

Police believe that due to the similar nature of the crime, and the similar descriptions given, the suspect could have molested both boys.

The first attack, June 9, occurred at the Vernon Hills Wal-Mart in Townline Commons and the second attack occurred June 16, at the Toys 'R' Us, also in Townline Commons.

The man allegedly approached a 6-year-old who was standing in an aisle and reached over him, touching him in a sexual manner. A 10-year-old North Chicago boy said that a man touched him inappropriately in the men restroom.

Fremont to vote on charter school

Mundelein—Fremont School Board will vote to accept or deny a proposal to form the Prairie Commons Charter School Monday, June 23, at a public hearing starting at 7 p.m. in the Media Center of the school at 28855 North Fremont Center Road in Mundelein.

A key issue the board will consider is the extent of public support in the district for such a school.

A parent-based founders group from the Prairie Crossing community in Grayslake presented a proposal to the district board June 12. A similar proposal had been rejected by the Woodland District 50 board of education. The revised proposal for Fremont Dist. 79 consideration focused on changes made to the proposal as a result of losing Woodland support. The new school founders were "now operating off the premise of a one district charter," said Miriam Frank, presentation leader.

Conway Farms revenue to be shared

Libertyville—The 10-year dispute over revenue from the Conway Farms development in Lake Forest has finally been resolved with all involved districts agreeing to a revenue sharing plan.

The districts: Rondour District 72, Lincolnshire-Prairie View District 103, Stevenson High School District 125 and Libertyville High School District 128, have all agreed to a 20-year revenue sharing program for the 400-plus acre, upscale housing and commercial development.

Man dead in truck 4 days

Wadsworth—Newport Fire Department responded to an unpleasant scene June 17, 8:30 a.m. at Baby Doll's adult lounge, 41475 Route 41.

They received a call about a semi-truck trailer that had been parked in the rear of the establishment for several days.

Upon investigation, they discovered Howard Flamholtz 50, of Chester, New York, dead in his truck. According to Lake County Deputy Coroner Jim Whipper, Flamholtz's cause of death hasn't been determined, but he most likely died of natural causes four days before the fire department found him and had serious medical problems. His wife last talked to him June 9, and his trucking company had reported him missing four days prior.

Drugs may be involved in crash

Benton Township—A collision between a Mazda RX7 sports car and a church bus June 17, at 10:45 a.m., killed passenger Antonio Pacheco, 23, of Waukegan. The driver Hector Rivera, 24, also of Waukegan died the next morning June 18, at 7 a.m. at St. Therese Medical Center.

The collision occurred just north of Wadsworth Road on Lewis Avenue. Sgt. Thomas Braze of the Lake County Sheriff's Department said there is suspicion Rivera was under the influence of cannabis and they are waiting on test results from the coroner's office.

The Mazda was reportedly traveling at a high rate of speed and slid passenger side first into the side of the bus which was empty except for the driver who was unharmed.

Campaign disclosure seminar set for June 25 at Libertyville Twp.

Lake County Clerk Willard Helander announced that a workshop will be held at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, June 25, at the Libertyville Township office to inform candidates, political committees and interested citizens about filing obligations under the Illinois Campaign Financing Act. The workshop will be conducted by State Board of Election officials and will focus on pre-election information and reporting requirements for the Semi-Annual report due to be filed between July 1 and July 31.

"We are sponsoring the workshop to provide political committees the necessary tools to fulfill their obligations under Illinois law. The class should be very helpful to those individuals who are forming a new political committee and a good refresher for those who have an active committee," Helander said.

A candidate or organization is required to file as a political committee if the candidate or organization will spend or accept contributions in excess of $1,000 (in any 12 month period) in support of or opposition to any candidate or question of public policy. Each political committee must file a Statement of Organization within 30 days of creation. Semi-annual reports must be filed twice a year and Pre-election reports must be filed 15 days before each election.

The workshop, which will last approximately two hours, will provide a step-by-step explanation of how to complete the reporting forms and will include a question and answer period. The township office is located at 359 Merrill Court, Libertyville. From Milwaukee Ave. (Route 21), take Winchester Rd., west to Ellis and turn south to the township office.

A Campaign Disclosure Packet is available from the clerk's office, Room 101 of the County Building, 18 N. County St., Waukegan. The packet includes the forms, instructions and necessary information to form a new political committee. For further information, call 360-7314.

Work or sit? Inmates choose

At the risk of being accused by civil rights zealots of employing "Chain Gang" methods, Sheriff Gary Del Re has installed a pilot corrections program utilizing volunteer inmate workers for highway cleanup duties.

Both Del Re and Sheriff's Correctional Division Deputy Superintendent Charles DeFlippo are emphasizing that the program is voluntary. Inmates who prefer working to sitting will undergo careful screening by corrections officers and the medical staff. Inmates with a history of violence, escape, behavioral problems or mental health issues are disqualified.

Use of inmate labor is legal and is covered by Department of Corrections codes and standards. Lake County courts long have successfully utilized work assignments outside the jail to enable lawbreakers to fulfill community service requirements.

The new program will be subject to strict review. Inmate highway work details will be fully operational by mid-June. Saving tax dollars by putting able-bodied prisoners to work is a great idea. Why were outside inmate work details so long in coming?

Bureau bungles graduation favor

Once again, the Illinois High School Assn. has lived up to its reputation of being an arbitrary, ham-handed, hard-hearted, inflexible bureaucracy. This time Wauconda High School is ticked, and for good reason, over an IHSA ruling that the school's regional baseball champions had to play their first sectional game against Barrington at the same time graduation ceremonies were to be held.

School officials sought rescheduling to enable 14 senior ballplayers to get diplomas with classmates. They suggested a simple switch with the Schaumburg-Zion-Benton game at 1 p.m. so the Wauconda athletics could get their diplomas at the 10:30 a.m. commencement.

No way, ruled IHSA. This has come up in the past, an association official in Springfield huffed. Nothing could be done. Coaches, players, administrators and parents jointly made the decision to play at the designated time and let the seniors pick up their sheepskins later.

Board member Thomas A. Weber Sr. said it was a choice the young athletes shouldn't have been forced to make. We agree. Was the IHSA saying that playing a game is more important than graduating? That's what it looks like.

Leadership void hurts independents

Lack of leadership among independent Republican members on the Lake County Board was evident in the way they botched efforts to head off the appointment of Dick Raftis to an opening on the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Raftis is a member in good standing of the power bloc that caters to land owners and special interests in fostering uncontrolled growth and development, a fact that cost him a seat as a district representative last April. Now he's back in a position to manipulate how the county's open space is utilized.

Nine Republicans who eschew party leadership that elevated the Democratic minority to positions of strength and influence to maintain control of county land use policies were so disorganized they were unable to head off the push for Raftis.

Too little and too late, the independents submitted an excellent candidate, Charles Lucas, a decorated World War II veteran with a long record of public service in both municipal and county government. But members of the County Board's Planning, Building and Zoning Committee, broke their own rules to ignore Lucas. Democrats Bob Buhai, Carol Spielman, Debbie Halas and Angelo Kyle already were under the domination of the GOP power bloc that runs things in county government. Chairman Pam Newton, a committed member of the power bloc, groped for reasons to avoid Lucas. Al Westerman and Larry Leafblad, independent Republicans on the committee, could only offer lipservice opposition. The Raftis appointment went right to the full board without the customary committee review.

Independent Republicans have nine voices on the Lake County Board, but they never will be a force to contend with until they rally around a leader to act as one.

VIEWPOINT

Roadside poaching: county's newest peril

What can best be described as a "help yourself" attitude on the part of the general public is disturbing residents of Lake County's rural byways.

Spring flowers and wild asparagus are popular targets this time of year. Later it will be field corn and apples growing on trees accessible to passersby. In the fall, a lot of ripe pumpkins are picked off by poachers before harvest time.

A householder in rural Antioch told your columnist about bold motorists who bolt from their cars this time of year to fetch handfuls of tulips growing in her front yard. "They think nothing of taking what they please," the caller lamented. "What kind of examples are they setting for children?" she asked. Long Grove's lovely displays of daffodils and jonquils sparkling along fencelines and driveways are ravaged by intruders scouting for free bouquets.

The Antioch area resident's home is protected by an expensive security device. "My husband and I set the alarm when we go to bed, always wondering if we'll enjoy a safe nights sleep." Secluded sideroad residences, once regarded as desirable enclaves of privacy, have become places of peril.

Welcome to a dark side of Lake County.

EASY RIDERS

Buffalo Grove Mayor Sidney Mathias is bursting with pride that his community is supplying the most riders for Metra's new North Central rail commuter service. Buffalo Grove is getting ready to expand its parking lot, two years ahead of schedule.

HE'S RUNNING

Sheriff Gary Del Re, assisted by his wife and parents, launched his election campaign in 1998 with a highly successful fund raising reception at Country Squire. Del Re will carry the Republican banner. At this early date, no other aspirants have surfaced for the county's top law enforcement office.

STEPPING DOWN

There is going to be a new management look at Reed-Randle Motors Inc., a fixture in the Waukegan automotive scene for more than a half century. Rick Reed reportedly will step down, ending a direct tie to the founders of one of the county's largest and most successful automobile agencies.

NAVY DAY BATTLE

Lake County's annual Navy Day football game this year will pit host North Chicago vs. Stevenson High Saturday, Sept. 27. Always a colorful spectacle, the Navy Day game here is sort of a mini version of the famed Army-Navy football clash in Philadelphia every fall. Bands, pagentry, flags galore, food and football.

TOPS OF POPS

Most popular attraction on this year's Ravinia program is the Tony Bennett concert Monday, Aug. 4. Pavilion seats were all sold even before ticket brochures were mailed. Long-time subscribers and special sponsors get first call on all performances. Tony's local fans will have to be content with lawn seats.

FREEZING TIME

Dick Breeden has an indelible way of preserving—and sharing—boyhood memories. He's put them down in an acclaimed collection of paintings that now are on display at Centegra Medical Center, McHenry.

The former business executive's artistic talent previously was known only to family members. Now an ever-widening circle of acquaintances is enjoying a colorful impression of midwest America of 50 to 60 years ago. Dick left the Chicago business scene more than three decades ago to become a prominent apple grower. The painting exhibit will shift in July to Wauconda Orchards, a west Lake County landmark operated by the Breedens.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY

Pop has been taking plenty of ribbing about a hefty 1996 seed catalog order of perennials that resulted in a lone survivor in this year's garden. "Don't laugh," responded the erstwhile green-thumber. "Who else has a $100 hollyhock?"

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

County leads in case work, but townships go outside

In 1996, Lake County courts tried more law jury cases seeking $50,000 or more than any county except Cook. Ninety law jury cases went to verdict in Lake County compared to 84 in the more populous DuPage, according to Chief Judge Raymond J. McKoski.

Lake County also disposes of cases quicker. The average time from filing to jury verdict was 21.6 months in Lake County compared with a whopping 46.2 months in Cook. McKoski credits "hard work and the cooperation of judges" with keeping Lake County a leader in case management.

Going outside

A decision by officials of Libertyville township to hire legal counsel from a politically connected Chicago law firm spotlighted a trend among townships to pass over Lake County law firms for legal help. Chicago Atty. Richard Cowen has corralled the most township accounts in the county. Mike Duffy will be the recipient of Libertyville township's generosity to the tune of $10,000 per month. Duffy is with Gardner, Carton and Douglas.

Backing Bertha

Independent Republicans on the Lake County Board would like to see veteran Waukegan Democrat Bertha Ogrin try and regain her seat in county government. Ogrin was ousted by Jim Stanzak, an employee of the Sec. of State's Libertyville Driver's Test Center, who'll be facing re-election in 1998 along with 14 other board incumbents. The independents like Ogrin's record on growth issues and support of open space and land preservation questions.

Dine and listen

Green Oaks Mayor Tom Adams is being "out headlined" these days by younger brother, Scott,

Anderson: 'No extra charge for sunburn'

Grever: 'Foot in mouth' spokesman for the new "Out to Supper/Band Concert" series running five Thursday nights this summer in downtown Libertyville. If the weatherman cooperates, local restaurants are eager to combine food and music, Scott declared.

Red's day coming

No one has more fun at Burger and Brew Day at Blarney Island, Grass Lake, than Lake County Treasurer Jack "Red" Anderson. With no extra charge for sunburn, this year's event is set for Wednesday, Aug. 27. Can't beat the price. The Anderson fundraiser tickets are $15 each (two for $25), making it the best bargain on the political fundraising circuit. Call 662-1449 for tickets.

Early campaign stop?

Former State of Illinois Comptroller Roland W. Burris was in Waukegan, Wednesday to speak at the 20th Equal Opportunity day luncheon hosted by the Lake County Urban League. The theme of the speech was "Our Children Equal Our Destiny." Burris is rumored to be a possible candidate for the Gov's chair in 1998. Could this have been an early campaign stop?

Foot in mouth

Lake County Board Chairman Bob Grever was left with his foot slightly in mouth when discussing the nomination of Charles Lucas as a prospective member of the Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals last week. Grever said he had never met Lucas and in checking with people who had worked with him, said he heard no favorable comments. When Lucas spoke from the audience, he graciously reminded the chairman, that Grever recently reappointed him to his seat the Regional Planning Commission. "I guess, you didn't find fault with my record of public service when you reconsidered my appointment?" Lucas quipped.

Ever try giving a cat a pill?

Just in case you missed this recent story from Seattle, Wash., here it is again: While a woman was asleep, a burglar broke into her home. Her 18-year-old cat, Jake, resented the intrusion, sprang on the thief and did some serious biting and shredding of skin.

The commotion attracted neighbors who subdued the creep. He was taken to a hospital for repairs and carted off to jail.

The moral of the story? Never be petless in Seattle.

(Sorry, couldn't resist.)

Two of my readers (you know who you are) told me they wish I would write about cats more often. I hesitate to do that because some folks say they hate cats. Cat people reply that only tyrants hate cats.

Cats are mysterious, cool and aloof while dogs are an open book, just oozing love from every pore. There's a saying, "Call your dog and he'll come running. Your cat will take a message and get back to you."

There are many stories about the devoted deeds of dogs, but there was a cat story out of New York a year ago that even topped the fabled Lassie's heroic rescues.

A firefighter battling a garage fire in Brooklyn noticed a cat carrying a kitten out of the flames. The cat went back into the burning building four more times to retrieve the rest of her litter. By her last trip, she was badly burned but the five kittens were only singed.

The firefighter collected the brood and took them to an animal shelter where they were treated by veterinarians and placed in an oxygen tent. When the story was broadcast, the shelter received more than 1,000 calls offering to adopt the mother cat and her kittens.

Well, folks who have had experience with cats, and folks who avoid experience with cats, may share alike the following excerpt from one of those humorous essays by anonymous wits being duplicated on office copy machines:

"How to give your cat a pill.
"Grasp cat firmly in your arms. Cradle its head in your elbow, as if giving your baby a bottle. Coo confidently, 'That's a nice kitty! Drop pill into cat's mouth.
"Retrieve cat from top of lamp and pill from under sofa.
"Proceed again, this time opening cat's mouth by lifting the upper jaw and quickly popping in the pill.
"Leave cat hanging on drapes. Leave pill in potted plant.
"If you're a woman, have a good cry. If you're man, have a good cry.
"Now pull yourself together. Who's the boss here anyway? Retrieve cat and pill. Ask cat, 'Who's the boss here anyway?'
"Get bench towel and wrap cat in it. Press its mouth at the jaw hinges, like opening the petals of a snapdragon.
"Drop pill in cat's mouth and poke gently. Voila! It's done!
"Vacuum up loose fur (cat's). Apply bandages to wounds (yours)."
Well, I must admit, giving your dog a pill is a lot easier. Just disguise it in a slice of liver sausage.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Time runs out to say 'no' to AutoNation

Residents of Gurnee stand a good chance for AutoNation, of the used auto dealer, to get the go-ahead to set up shop. Car Max will soon follow. No matter what, the used car dealerships will be voted in by the trustees of Gurnee.

As to the amount of money AutoNation predicts, subtract 50 percent of their inflated figures. Don't turn away from the people who live closest to the building site of the petitioner. Be assured that some other petitioner more favorable will come to Gurnee, and be able to bring good dollars, in good faith to the Gurnee treasury. Allow the undeveloped land to absorb water from oncoming storms a little longer.

Some examples where trustees and people allowed projects to move forward, not rejecting strong enough to halt the developments.

Gurnee will see the Viking School get rebuilt in its floodplain. In Beach Park, the Beach Park School was allowed to be built east of the regional airport. Students listen always to jet planes engines, and inhale the fumes of jet aviation fuel.

Vernon Hills allowed a juvenile detention facility (no less a prison) to be facing west on Milwaukee Ave., instead of finding a location away from a major thoroughfare. In Lincolnshire, they allowed a large furniture store to be built next door to an expensive apartment complex.

Editor's note: Trustees voted Monday night to grant a special use permit to AutoNation.

Background omitted

I read with great curiosity the letter from

Lauren Januz on June 5 entitled "Campaign sources tell woeful tale." The letter appears to accuse members of the County Board of selling their votes and infers darkly that the Lake County State's Attorney and Sheriff allow the Mafia to operate with impunity in Lake County due to campaign contributions. My curiosity was further piqued when I never heard this "woeful tale." There was nary a fact to support the inflammatory rhetoric of Mr. Januz.

Mr. Januz claims that some campaign contributions come from "very interesting sources." Apparently this would help to explain the reasons public officials act as they do. My curiosity has been further aroused as to why your paper did not point out what a "interesting source," Mr. Januz is. It is a matter of public record that Mr. Januz is a thrice-convicted felon. He has been convicted of fraud in the federal system as well as harassment of witnesses and intimidation by our office. Among these crimes are other interesting letters Mr. Januz has written, such as causing volumes of hate mail to be sent to a man of Jewish descent and threats to vandalize construction sites of a company he did not agree with. These offenses were publicized extensively by local media, your paper included.

Mr. Januz was capably investigated by the same Lake County Sheriff's Office he names in your letter and prosecuted by the same Lake County State's Attorney's Office he attacks. Perhaps the time he spent in our jail caused him to once again wield his pen maliciously and irresponsibly. An editor's note about Mr. Januz' past may have helped to more fully inform your readers.

Agency slam unnecessary

A recent letter to the editor published on June 5, (William Mayer) contains misinformation that needs to be corrected. Although dozens of individuals volunteer their time to the Fox Waterway Agency (FWA), this organization has always had a full time professional staff. Current maintenance of this precious resource as well as its preservation for future users requires the skills and organizational abilities of knowledgeable water resource engineers and dedicated staff.

Individuals with the necessary skills and talents are difficult to find and the agency was fortunate to have Karen Kabbes as its executive director. Contrary to the opinion expressed by Mr. Mayer about excessive salaries, it is likely that the Fox Waterway Board will need to "increase" its salary scale in order to hire an equally competent executive director.

The slam at Judy Martini is also reprehensible. Judy is a past director of the FWA and currently is vice-president of the FWA advisory panel. As a member of the Lake County Board representing a major portion of the Chain O'Lakes and as a resident of Antioch concerned about the care of our natural resources, she has a responsibility and a "duty" to monitor the activities of the FWA. I applaud her diligence and commitment. The recent series of unfortunate events associated with the FWA might have been prevented if more residents were as attentive.

As stated by Mr. Mayer, "we need to look at what's going on." Fortunately, Judy Martini is doing exactly that. We should all be appreciative.

Cola passage urged

The proposed 3 percent cost of doing business adjustment for community based organizations who serve the children and adults who are developmentally disabled in the State of Illinois failed in the 90th Legislative Session. The needs of this special population should be a priority for the Governor and Legislators.

Countryside Association for the Handicapped is one of many community providers that are major players in the state plan for serving the developmentally disabled. We were projecting that the 3 percent Cola would be in the 1998 State of Illinois budget. IT WAS NOT.

We urge the legislators to pass the 3 percent Cola when it resumes during the fall veto session.

MALAMUTES: 'Good owners always needed' their owners, even if it's watching television. Malamutes are easy to train and are well-mannered. They can bark, but seldom do. Each year titles are won by Malamutes, in competition from Kennel Clubs, to utility, tracking, and companion events.

An Arctic dog, the Malamute can live outdoors, but they are nearly odorless house pets. They of course, need exercise and companionship. The life span of the Malamute is about 12 to 14 years. Their double coat consists of a short, dense undercoat and an outer coat of coarse guard hair. They can withstand extremely cold temperatures, and love to frolic in the snow. When they're ready to shed, expect a lot of fur on your carpeting.

Biglow quickly gives credit to the many men and women who take dogs in, and who use their own money to keep the organization going. Most importantly, she commends the many volunteers for their efforts to keep the dogs from euthanasia. She shared some stories that can chill and warm your heart just minutes apart. "Grizzly Bear" was a 2-year old male, owner known, but no longer interested in caring for his dog. Volunteers rescued him the day before he would have been euthanized. He was starving, with bleeding hot spots all over his body. He was flea infested. After being adopted, he gained 20 pounds, grew a health coat, and became a loving house pet.

Cidaq is among the many Alaskan Malamutes that are being cared for by the rescue association. For information about adoption call (708) 532-3326.

"Candy" weighed 40-pounds when they got her from the Chicago Anti-Cruelty Society. They had spayed her and removed a mass from her side. Candy now weighs 70 pounds, and is very sweet with children and adults.

"Lobo", a 5-year-old male, was picked up as a stray. He was scheduled to be euthanized, and no foster home was available. He was "rescued" and placed in a boarding kennel, where he stayed five months. Because he was "older," he wasn't as easily placed. While in the kennel, IAMRA paid for his boarding costs, visited him to play with him, groom him, walk him. Lobo cost over $900 to rescue, but Biglow states, "it was worth while, because he is such a loving and trusting companion."

"Goldie," a 6-year-old female, was given up by her owner. She lived in a breezeway between the house and garage, on a 6-foot chain. She was never walked, and hadn't been house-broken. While in foster care, Goldie received basic training and had a great deal of exercise. She quickly learned to be affectionate, and because of her gentle nature, was placed in a home with children. She is now a popular playmate with the neighborhood children.

If you would like more information about Alaskan Malamutes, and could be interested in adopting one, contact Nancy Biglow at (708) 532-3326. When I asked Biglow if she'd accept donations from people who could not adopt at this time, but appreciated the work that IAMRA did, she replied with a delighted, "Yes."

Bikers: Two indicted in federal case cycle Club.

O'Neill is listed as president of the Janesville chapter. One of its members, Rostron, is also charged.

A status hearing is expected in federal court at the end of this month.

The racketeering activity against the 17 defendants includes the following six murder cases: Aug. 24, 1992 murder of Donald Wagner in Racine County, Wis; the April 7, 1993 murders of Morris and Ruth Gauger in McHenry County; the June 28, 1994 murder of LaMonte Mathis in Rockford; the Sept. 25, 1994 murder of Michael Quale in Lancaster, Erie County, New York and the March 3, 1995 murder of Jack Castle in Chicago.

They are also cited in the bombing and attempted murder of Edward Murphy Oct. 30, 1993 and Feb. 10, 1994 in Lake County.

All face a possible life in prison sentence if convicted, according to Lisa Warwick, U.S. attorney, eastern district of Wisconsin.

Rostron is listed among several defendants in a May 30 case. He was also cited in a case regarding a requirement that participants perform two acts of racketeering. In a June 26, 1994 case he allegedly was one of seven defendants to challenge the Invaders Motorcycle Club of Indiana.

Lake County State's Attorney Mike Waller said O'Neill gave testimony in the 1985 murder of Richard Cerda. Matthew Homer was implicated by O'Neill but later was acquitted.

"We have not had much contact with the Outlaws. Most of their significant activity has taken place outside of Lake County," Waller said.

"Over the past 25 years, the Outlaws have been one of Wisconsin's two most highly organized and successful organized crime groups. But this is the beginning of the end of their trail of murders, bombings, drugs and stolen vehicles," Scheider said in announcing the indictments.

"These defendants believed they were invincible and could operate with impunity from law enforcement. These charges illustrate our firm commitment and ability to penetrate a criminal organization and bring its leaders to justice," said David Benton, special agent in charge of the ATF offices for Illinois and Wisconsin.

Law enforcement agencies to cooperate in the investigation included Lake, McHenry and Kenosha County Sheriff's Departments.

Go look elsewhere

This is in reference to the Thursday, May 30 article titled "Top grads at Wauconda High see scary future." This article also questions Wauconda High School's standards. It's funny, isn't it? We graduate so many wonderful kids who go on to really do something and make themselves into something great and you have some whiny kid who's scared to go out into the real world. I don't think that's a reason to degrade or put down standards or teachers at Wauconda. I think we have the best thing going in Wauconda. Maybe this kid should go look elsewhere for education or a job.

Let's get harsh

This is in response to "Never again" from the person who reported a drunk driver. I hope she didn't mean never again. I'm a nurse at Good Shepherd Hospital. If you could see the women, children, and men who are maimed by drunk drivers. People are taken from their families by drunk drivers. I think I know the drunk driver you're speaking of. If I'm correct, I believe this is his fourth DUI. America, when are we going to wake up. Let's take the licenses away from these people and give them harsher punishments. Until you see a child laying dead, or children screaming in the waiting room for their mothers, you have no idea what a drunk driver can do. Please, pull their licenses forever and make them get counseling.

He's the man

I just want to say that if Michael Jordan didn't deserve to be MVP, I don't know who does. After Game 5, how can anyone deny that he is the greatest player to ever play in the NBA? We fans who have been fans through thick and thin (yes, there were days when the Bulls struggled) really appreciate your current triumphs more than anyone else. Congratulations, Chicago Bulls, on your fifth championship in seven years. I hope you'll be able to keep the team together for a run at a sixth title! If there's any team that can do it, you can!

You're replaceable

To the uppercrust of Unit 116, stop crying about what the state will not give us and take a freeze in pay for a year or so. Many of you come from a two paycheck family. I'm a single parent and not on welfare and I can make do. Can you? You must remember everyone is replaceable, even you. One thing that isn't replaceable is our children's education. Some day they will be taking care of us when we are old.

Thanks for editorial

Thank you, thank you, thank you, for your editorial on Charter Schools. The public education machine will do all they can to thwart this movement because they've had it too good for too long. I'm not happy with public schools. I have to pay for classes for my fifth grader that other districts provide as regular curriculum. The teacher's union is too powerful and is not in touch with today's family. Being an atheist, I will not send my child to a parochial school. But if the Charter School taught kindness, morality, and responsibility, I'd sign my child up today. I want more control over my child's education. I believe more folks would get involved in schools if they weren't just regulated to fundraising events. Let's get parents involved in meaningful school support. Let's get Charter Schools.

Letdown

What a deflating letdown for us when I read in the paper that the new Grayslake park district commissioners that we elected with high hopes, voted themselves $1,500 to pay for a resort in Zion to meet for two days. This is the goody, pristine Grayslake Five, who we chose to add professionalism for the park district. They say they had to meet there to gain more time for meetings. It takes an hour to drive there and back home. Sure, what they did was perfectly legal, but I see it as stupidity. Not the way to foster good relations within our town. We're hanging in there with you because we know you'll use simple, common sense in the future.

Bumps and dips

I'm a taxpayer in Fox Lake and I'm surprised that the mayor wants to promote Ron Hoehne to Superintendent of Public Works when he hasn't done his job as Superintendent of Streets. The mayor should drive around and see all the bumps and dips in the road. I'm very surprised the mayor is doing this.

Good job, Ron

In regard to the message titled "Where's priorities," regarding Ron Hoehne being the Superintendent of Streets, since Ron Hoehne has been working for Fox Lake, I feel, as a taxpayer, that he's done a good job. The streets are beautiful and he's working real hard. I want to commend him on the great job he's done.

Need advice

I hope there's some readers out there who can help me. I have bought a business in the Grayslake area and have learned that the corporation is taking a lot of money under the table and is more or less stealing from us. I'm hoping someone can help me out with some advice.
Grayslake

Putting it off

I am 70 years old and for a long, long time I have been planning to have an adulterous affair. However, in light of the current media atmosphere regarding adultery, I think I'll put this off for another 10 or 15 years.

Tit for tat

I have an opinion about the proper sentencing for Timothy McVeigh, the murderer of 169 people in the Oklahoma bombing. He should serve one month for each death at Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas, the military prison. It's terrible there. He would serve 169 months, and then get the death penalty with no appeals process.

Accidental trash

I preferred it when the Libertyville News was delivered by mail, now it's delivered by some type of service. The service is okay, but I've been throwing it away by accident. I've missed some issues because of this.

Keep calling

I've noticed that the Lipservice column has decreased substantially since Bob Depke has left both of his offices as County Board President and Township Supervisor. I still hope people will contribute to this column because I think it's very valuable.

Fixed

I'm of the opinion that most major league sport games are fixed. Especially the World Series and the NBA Finals. It's evident that the more games they play, the more money they make. It's been clear that the Bulls were holding back in Utah. I expected they would win Wednesday and take it all Friday. It's too bad this goes on and I hope I'm not the only one who believes this.

Atrocious landscaping

I'd like to comment on the landscaping in the median strip of our newly widened Route 83 between Route 60 and Arlington Heights Road. What's up with that? Does the Lake County Road Department ever check to see what's going on, what's growing and not growing there? It's atrocious! I think the taxpayers deserve better. I'd appreciate a clean-up. Anything would be more appealing, especially during rush hour gridlock.

Get some respect

This is for all the parents and family members of the Magee graduates who so rudely got up and walked out after their child's name was announced. Don't any of you have the common decency to wait until every child had their time in the limelight? I sure hope your child grows up to have more respect than you have. It's people like you who give Round Lake a bad name.

Congrats, grads

This is for all the Magee graduates who have just graduated eighth grade. Congratulations to all of you, I'm very proud of you. I hope to see all your faces at your high school graduation in 2001. Good luck in high school!

Village owes us

I think everyone should get money back from the mayor for destroying our property values by letting the electric company put power lines through our village and widen Clinton Road instead of putting in Route 53. She didn't fight for our village and didn't care what happened to our property values. She bought a home in another part of town. Apparently she has what she wants, but we don't.

Wrong blame

I am very mad at the president for vetoing flood relief for North and South Dakota. He is blaming the wrong people in this bill. The Republicans have worked very hard to get this bill passed.

Pre-arrangement

Talk with a Professional

Many questions will arise when you consider pre-arranging a funeral; questions that can only be answered by a funeral director. His professional guidance and expertise will help you make the necessary decisions. You will need to know what arrangements must be made and what facilities and services are available. You may have questions on wills; social security and veteran's benefits; merchandise and cost. It is important to remember that a funeral director is most qualified to answer your questions and help make arrangements that best meet your needs.

Emil W. Zdon

Age 76, a Fox Lake resident for over 25 years and a former Chicago resident, died at his home on Saturday, June 14, 1997. He was born in Chicago on Jan. 24, 1921. Mr. Zdon worked for many years as a bartender and was a former bar manager for the Country Squire Restaurant at Grayslake.

Survivors include, two nephews, Stanley (Taisha) Dymon of Island Lake, Emil (Kristie) Dymon of Fox Lake; two nieces, Mary Dymon of Fox Lake and Carol (Dow) Schwenker of Bartlett; great nieces and nephews survive and other relatives.

Private funeral services and interment were for the family only.

Arrangements were made by the K. K. Hamsher Funeral Home, Fox Lake (The Chapel on the Lake).

Arthur Kamin

Age 74, of Island Lake, died Saturday, June 14, 1997, in Northern Illinois Medical Center after a long illness. He was born Nov. 23, 1922 in Chicago, the son of William and Christina (Salz) Kamin. On March 4, 1944 in Mundelein, he married Mathilda Haley. He was a research engineer and inventor and lived many years in Mundelein and Lake Villa before retiring to Island Lake.

He is survived by his wife; three sons, Lenard of Wonder Lake, Larry (Jennifer) of Kenosha, Lee of Waukegan; two daughters, Louise (John) Schafer of Polo and Lucille (Jim) Heckenbach of Lindenhurst; 13 grandchildren; two brothers, George Kamin of California and Robert Kamin of Des Plaines and one sister, Evelyn Coughlin of Chicago. He is preceded in death by his parents, three sisters and three brothers.

Services and interment were private. Memorials may be made to the Salvation Army or to the Island Lake Rescue Squad.

Arrangements were handled by the Peter M. Justen Colonial Funeral Home, McHenry.

Doris L. Metz

Age 76, of Antioch, passed away Sunday, June 15, 1997, at the home of her son in Trevor, Wisc., after an extended illness. She was born April 6, 1921 in Chicago, the daughter of the late Irving and Lura (Elliot) Welker. She moved to Lake Villa in 1946 and later lived for 15 years in Ocala, Fla., moving back to Lake Villa in 1992 and to Antioch recently. She worked as a sales clerk in various retail stores for many years and was a member of the AARP and the Antioch Senior Citizens. On Nov. 17, 1945, she married Herman Metz in Chicago and he preceded her in death on March 29, 1996.

Survivors include, two sons, Bert (Judy) Metz of Antioch, and Irv (Pat) Metz of Trevor, Wisc.; three grandchildren, Ann (Michael) Greenlee, Regine (Lee) Brooks and Tracy (Jerry) Brewer; four great grandsons, Andrew, Jeffrey, Michael and Austin. Besides her husband she is preceded in death by a daughter, Lura.

Funeral services were held at the Strang Funeral Home of Antioch, with the Rev. Leona Tichenor of Trinity United Methodist Church of Lindenhurst, officiating.

Interment was private. Those desiring may make contributions to the Antioch Senior Center in her memory.

Anna E. Lauten (nee Holzen)

Age 88, a resident of Fox Lake for over 50 years, died Friday, June 13, 1997, in Libertyville. She was born in Chicago to John and Theresa (nee Auer) Holzen on March 9, 1909, and had been married to Frank Lauten on May 3, 1930 at St. Bartholomew's Catholic Church in Chicago. She had been a former longtime employee with GEFCO Manufacturing in Grayslake. Eleanor M. Kaiser Age 76, of Paddock Lake, Salem, Wisc., passed away Tuesday, June 17, 1997 at St. Luke's Hospital, Milwaukee, Wisc. She was born Nov. 6, 1920 in Chicago, the daughter of the late August and Martha (Collmann) Zilske. She moved to Paddock Lake in 1973 and was a member of St. Francis Xavier Church of Brighton, Wisc. and the AARP. Mrs. Kaiser retired as a matron from Antioch High School, Antioch, and had worked prior as an assembler at Stewart and Warner in Chicago. On Oct. 31, 1939 she married Paul Kaiser in Chicago and he preceded her in death on Dec. 29, 1970.

Survivors include three daughters, Eleanor (Bob) Gere of Paddock Lake, Wisc., Anna (George) Langguth of Winter Park, Fla., and Linda (Timothy) Schwellenbach of Bristol, Wisc.; and two sons, Paul (Kay) Kaiser of Chicago and William (Paula) Kaiser of Salem, Wisc.; two sisters, Edna Morrison of Atlanta, Ga. and Dorothy (John) Scalzo of Danbury, Conn. and two brothers, George (Joan) Zilske of Lake Geneva, Wisc. and August Zilske of California. She was the grandmother of 10 and great grandmother of five. Besides her husband, she is preceded in death by three brothers, Robert, Fred and William Zilske and one great grand daughter, Kimberly.

Funeral services with Mass of Christian Burial will be held at 10 a.m., Thursday, June 19, 1997 at St. Francis Xavier Church, Brighton, Wisc.

Interment will be at 12:30 p.m. graveside at St. Joseph Cemetery, River Grove.

Arrangements were made by the Strang Funeral Home, Antioch.

Those desiring, may make contributions to the Salem Township Rescue Squad in her memory.

Dorothy K. Tralewski (nee Prena)

Age 69, of Grayslake passed away Tuesday, June 17, 1997 at Condell Medical Center in Libertyville. She had made her home in Grayslake the past five years, formerly of Chicago. Mrs. Tralewski was a member of the St. Mary Church of Fremont Center.

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Dear Search,
I am a recent college graduate who was recruited by a well established corporation in early April. The corporation has invited me out for some intense interviewing process. I will be flying out to meet with these people just outside the Denver area in mid May. If I feel comfortable about meeting with the people I have spoken to over the past month. My concern is that the owner of the company is picking me up from the airport and I have not previously spoke to the man. I am afraid of being at a loss for what to say while in the car for 40 minutes and definitely concerned of having a lull in the conversation. Can you give me some tips on what topics to hit on in the case of this happening? Thank you.
G.A.—Lake Forest
Dear G.A.,
Good question and asked more often than you think. You can never go wrong by starting out the car ride by asking question such as...Have you always lived in the Denver area?...Has your corporation always resided in the Denver area? If you have been to Denver before, no matter how long ago, it is always safe to say things as...I had forgotten how beautiful the mountains are. Chances are, the individual will most likely enjoy talking about himself and his corporation, so you can never go wrong with lead-in statements such as I have offered. Let the conversation take its own path. Forty minutes will go by quick. Just remember that before words come out of your mouth, be sure they are what you want to person or people to hear. Good Luck!

Dear Search,
I have been working with an employment agency for the past 3 months. The counselor that I am working with seems to be sending me out on too many interviews that I am not qualified for. I have said on many occasion that I don't feel that job is right for me or that I am not qualified to do this. The continually send me out anyway, saying things like...You won't know unless you try. Quite often the person interviewing me will stop in the middle of an interview and say something like... I don't understand the service sending you here for this position. Do I have the right to say that I do not feel the position is right for me? I am afraid that if I say that, that the service will stop sending me to interviews that apparently are not landing me anything but wasted time. What do you suggest?
T.B.—Gurnee
Dear T.B.,
I will guess that you are registered only with one employment service. While this may have sufficed for the short term, it appears as though you have had an insufficient 3 month search. Cut your losses now! Register with a reputable service and continue to search on your own as well. You absolutely have the right to turn down any interview you wish not to attend, but keep in mind, that a good employment counselor knows all about the company and position for which they send you out to. Once the decision has been made by you to go on the interview...stick to it.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee.

PET OF THE WEEK Sugar

A BLUE EYED BOY

"SUGAR" is an adorable, eight month old neutered male short hair cat. Full of kitten charm, kitten playfulness, kitten antics and kitten affection, this little blue-eyed boy is a treasure. Found as a stray in Chicago, Sugar has a small round impish face, and an outgoing "Cat"-sonality and a winning disposition. Friendly and easy going, Sugar gets along well with gentle dogs, nice cats and nice kids! Sugar, like any other blue-eyed white cats, is genetically deaf. But don't let that stop you - anyone who has ever been owned by a deaf cat can tell you that it's not a problem. Deaf cats adapt beautifully, so well in fact that no one ever suspects that my own white cat is deaf. Sugar interacts normally with everyone and wants to be treated like any other cherished feline friend. We "talk" to Sugar all the time. He may not hear the words, but he understands the language of love. If you'd like to bring a special cat into a safe indoor-only home, please come and see Sugar. Take him into your arms, and we promise he'll soon find his way into your heart as well. Cash $40 donation includes free spay/neuter, collar tag, first shots, FELV test, follow up care and much more. Orphans of the Storm is located at 2200 Riverwoods Rd., Deerfield. Hours are 11 am - 5 pm, seven days a week. Call (847) 945-0235 for further information. Thank You!

"YOU DON'T HAVE TO GO DOWNTOWN TO SEE GOOD BLUES!"

Chicago has long been known as the home of blues, but now Lake County can lay claim to the area's hottest blues band, "3 R Degree."

Made up of all Lake County residents, 3 R Degree is a "down to earth" group of musicians whose passion for the blues is quickly detected on stage.

Last weekend at Toppers in Antioch, 3 R Degree treated a packed house with a blues show that was second to none. The band's popularity in the area continues to grow.

"We started the band for fun a couple of years ago and it has really started to take off," said bass player Dennis Lambert.

Rooted in the far north suburbs, 3 R Degree is highly regarded in the northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin area. In addition to playing local clubs, the band was recently flown to the Orlando Convention Center, before returning for a show in Chicago at Dick's Last Resort.

"It's fun playing on the road, but what we really enjoy is playing Lake County," said Lambert. "Lake County loves the blues and they are definitely the best crowd!"

The band consists of John Walsh of Gurnee; Debbie and Dennis Lambert of Ingleside; Donna Huber, Ed Rowe and Gus Stage of Round Lake and Ken Johnson of Naperville.

Upcoming dates for 3 R Degree are Marriott Lincolnshire on May 2 and 3,
The Brat Stop in Kenosha on May 9 and 11 and July 11 and 12, The Greenleaf in Gurnee on June 21 and Taste of Antioch on July 18.

STARLIGHT

Handsome brick columns add a stately touch to the exterior of the 3553 square foot Starlight. This two-story beauty has an open floor plan with enough space to fully accommodate the needs of a growing family. In addition to the main and upper levels, there is a 362 square foot attic available for extra storage.

The advantages of the excellent floor design are readily apparent the minute you enter the graceful Starlight. Directly in line with the foyer is the dining room. The area is open, in keeping with the entire concept of the Starlight. A walk-through kitchen is nearby, allowing the cook in the family to prepare and serve meals with ease. Besides the built-in appliances, the kitchen features an island cooktop with eating bar, roomy walk-in pantry and garden window. A good-sized breakfast nook is adjacent to the kitchen and provides a nice place to meet for morning conversation.

A huge family room and cozy living room are the main gathering places on the lower level. The living room is heated by a corner fireplace and the family room has access to a back deck that is large enough for the whole gang to enjoy a summertime barbecue.

The isolated master suite boasts such fine amenities as a big walk-in closet, personal door to the back spa and a private bathroom with an oversized tub and twin basins. On the opposite side of this level, there is a nice guest suite that any overnight visitors will surely appreciate. The guest suite features plenty of closet space and a private bathroom. The lower floor concludes with a front facing home office and a utility room conveniently located near the garage.

The top floor is mostly open to below, enhancing the overall spaciousness of the Starlight. Two modest bedrooms, one with a big storage closet, are on this level. They are separated by a study that offers a quiet atmosphere for any students in the household. A full bathroom serves the second floor.

For a study kit of the STARLIGHT (336-020LP60) or a Dream Home Book, send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, 33127 Saginaw Rd. E., Cottage Grove, OR 97424 (Specify plan name & number for kit). For a collection of plan books featuring our most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark Designs, or call 1-800-562-1151.

Myths on buying a franchise

For a would-be, small-business owner the lure of the franchise is strong. We often hear that franchises are growing at faster rates than the overall economy. Franchise proponents tell us that risk is virtually eliminated because of proven systems and methods. We also hear the franchisors look out for the best interests of their franchisees.

Unfortunately, not all we read and hear is true. While there are advantages in owning a franchise, there are also pitfalls. Please consider the following myths and suggestions before you part with your hard-earned money.

Five franchising myths

- A franchise is a safe investment. Opening any business is a gamble. Even with tested formulas, there is risk. A 1992 congressional hearing found that nearly 40 percent of franchisees fail within the first five years.

- Franchisors look out for franchisees. Don't bet the farm on it. Some franchisors are better than others, but their goal is to grow and increase profits and that may often conflict with individual franchisees' needs.

- Franchises are easy to sell. If things don't work out you can sell a franchise quickly, right? Wrong. All franchises come complete with a contract. Some have buy-back clauses and most restrict the sale of the franchise.

- Franchises prosper in bad times. No business is recession-proof. Poor management can cause a franchise to fail in good economic times. In tough times, even well-run franchises can suffer decline or failure.

- All franchises are about the same. Not true. Franchises vary and are like an ever-changing kaleidoscope. Some offer brilliant opportunities, while others become dull and unimaginative almost overnight.

How to pick a winner

Before you invest heavily in any venture, take a little time to avoid the most common pitfalls. Here are some suggestions to get you started.

- Begin with an honest self-evaluation. What skills, knowledge and abilities do you possess that will help you be successful? Are you really willing to work 70 to 80 hours every week? Are you comfortable earning less initially? Can you handle the tough parts of the business such as personnel, financial management, accounting and marketing? Do you understand financial statements, labor laws and insurance requirements?

- Do your homework. Learn about the industry surrounding any franchise you might consider. Study the products and services offered. Know the competition. Take a hard look at the trade area. There are many sources of information, but you'll have to dig data out.

- Study individual franchisors. Not all franchisors offer equal opportunities. Look at the company's track record. Learn about their growth, marketshare and paperwork requirements. Carefully study the company's disclosure documents. Look at information from two or more companies. Bring in professionals when you get ready to negotiate the contract.

Novaks take happiness personally

By GLORIA DAVIS
Staff Reporter

Brothers Bob and Brian Novak have spent the last 20 years trying to make their customers happy, and taking that happiness personally by introducing them to a new, family way of life when traveling.

The Novaks now own 83 RV, located at 25514 N. Route 83 in Mundelein, 600 feet south of the intersection of Rtes. 45 and 83.

Besides servicing their LP gas customers, they rent, sell, and service new and used motor homes, travel trailers, fifth wheels, tent campers, and all the accessories that go along with these RV vehicles.

The Novaks love their business because it is virtually delivering a ton of fun to their customers, all wrapped up in a recreational vehicle. "We can show you an entirely new way of family life on the road for simply hundreds of dollars, all the way up to the top of line at $80,000," said Bob Novak.

For those who like to travel simply and stay at one of many of the country's marvelous camp grounds, a fifth wheel is a trailer that is towed by a pickup and tent campers can be towed by your car, ready to pop-up for comfortable sleeping facilities.

Their travel trailers offer most of the comforts of home while being towed behind your favorite vehicle, and the top of the luxury RV line, a motor home, is for all intents and purposes a home you drive yourself.

Motor homes allow those who want to see the USA in luxury comfort to take their "home" with them wherever they go. Many such travelers tow a car behind for short trip convenience when the motor home is parked.

These RV vehicles eliminate expensive hotel/motels when traveling, allowing customers to "camp and meet their neighbors, people with many of the same likes and goals," adds Bob. Since most of these vehicles offer cooking facilities, the outlandish cost of dining at strange and untried restaurants when on vacation is no longer a problem.

"No more sleeping in strange beds because you have your own bed along with you," said Bob.

83 RV is a full line Coachman dealer and their experienced staff is ready to work with customers in the sales, rental, parts and service departments, from Tuesday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, and from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. every Sunday. Call (847)566-8383 or Fax (847)566-8406 for more information.

Mall-walkers to sing 'Here comes the bride'

When Charlene Kipp marches down the aisle to marry Harold Humphrey it won't be a church aisle. Instead, the happy couple will be united at Gurnee Mills Mall, Monday, June 30 at 8:30 a.m.

The location and hour may seem unusual for a wedding, but it makes perfect sense for Kipp and Humphrey.

The couple met early one morning while mall-walking at Gurnee Mills. On the first anniversary of their meeting, Humphrey popped the question—while walking at Gurnee Mills.

So it was fitting for them to plan their wedding at the place where they met. In addition to friends and family, Humphrey and Kipp have extended an invitation to all of Gurnee Mills' mall-walkers.

Kipp, a resident of Grayslake, is a retired teaching assistant and mother of six grown children in her early 60s. A dynamic woman with an enviable zest for life, Kipp caught Humphrey's eye each morning at Gurnee Mills.

Humphrey, a 70-year-old retired bricklayer, began walking at Gurnee Mills after losing his wife of 48 years. "Harold said he'd been watching me for a long time before he realized I was always walking alone," recalled Kipp.

"He finally approached me and invited me to go for coffee some day after walking. I just said, how about today?"

One year later to the day, April 9, Humphrey popped the question during their morning walk at Gurnee Mills.

Humphrey and Kipp are looking forward to a traditional wedding in an untraditional setting. Their children and families will be in attendance, as well as the Mills Milers Walking Club.

The bride and groom will wear traditional wedding cloths, with a twist—walking shoes.

The nuptials will be held in Gurnee Mills' Show Court. Gurnee Mills management will provide a cake and decorations.

"We're thrilled to be a part of such a joyous occasion," said Joseph C. Szymaszek, general manager of Gurnee Mills. "Harold and Charlene are perfect examples of the health and social benefits of mall-walking."

The bridal couple plans to honeymoon in the south before returning to Lake County.

They plan to continue their morning walks at Gurnee Mills together.

The Gurnee Mills mall-walking club, Mills Milers, was started in 1991 and boasts more than 900 members. Call 263-7500 to find out more about mall-walking.

Coffee House has something good brewin'

21 East Coffee House opened its doors at 21 East Belvidere in Grayslake. The coffee house was designed around one simple principle: Give people what they want. If you like to sip café mocha while listening to live music, great. You can do that. If you prefer to drink herbal tea and relax by doing—nothing, next to the fireplace—that's OK too. Even if you just want to pick up a specially brewed coffee for your morning commute, that's fine with them.

"Everybody is different," says co-owner Gregg Rockenbach, "but everyone needs time for themselves. We simply try to make that time special by offering people what they want, whether it's coffee, tea, snacks, live music or just peace and quiet. We've got it all here so you don't have to worry about anything except enjoying this time you're taking for yourself."

21 East Coffee House is open Monday through Thursday from 5:30 a.m. to 7 p.m.; Fridays from 5:30 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Saturdays from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Sundays from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Kiferbaum to build Office Concepts

Jacob Kiferbaum, president of Kiferbaum Construction Corp., announced that the firm has been selected as design/build general contractor for the 100,000 square foot tenant build-out for Office Concepts, Inc. at Green Oaks Business Center—Phase II in Green Oaks.

Phase II is the second 197,000 square foot building to be designed and constructed by Kiferbaum Construction Corp. for Hiffman Shaffer Associates, Inc. Phase I was completed by the firm last summer.

Office Concepts, Inc., an office furniture dealership and associated interior services company, is currently headquartered in Chicago. According to Tom Worniak, general manager of Office Concepts, the firm will relocate its warehouse and asset management operations from Waukegan, to Green Oaks with its primary sales office remaining in Chicago. The new state-of-the-art facility will be one of the largest of its kind in the Chicagoland area.

According to Adam Miller, project engineer of Kiferbaum Construction Corp., the extensive buildout will include 7,500 square feet of office and a 92,500 square foot warehouse area. Bill D'Andrea, superintendent, will be responsible for the design/build construction of Office Concepts, Inc. Eckenhoff Saunders Architects is the architect for the project.

Kiferbaum Construction Corp. is a full service design/build general contractor headquartered in Lincolnshire. The firm specializes in industrial, office, retail, health care and food processing facilities on a national level.

Northern Air receives Trane dealer award

Northern Air Systems, Inc. in Grayslake, was presented with the Distinguished Dealer Award for 1996 at the Trane Dealer meeting held by Mid-Way Supply, Inc.

Northern Air Systems, Inc. specializes in residential, commercial and light commercial HVAC installation and service. Owner Wayne Wodach has been in business for 13 years and is in their 10th year as a Trane Dealer.

Civil matters handled more quickly in 19th Judicial Court

Through some creative methods, Lake County Circuit Court has been able to speed up the process of civil trials in matters of excess of $50,000.

"Most of those cases involve such things as automobile accidents, medical malpractice, and breach of contract. Lake County handled 90 of those cases, faster than any other suburban court system. Our average is 21.9 months while DuPage is up to 30 months, Will County 35 months, Kane county 30 months and Cook County 48 months," Ray McKoski, chief judge of the Lake-McHenry County Circuit Court.

The 19th judicial circuit has 10 judges and 21 associate judges. Legislation was passed to allow for another judge position, but that has not been signed by Gov. James Edgar.

Since December, litigants have been able to participate in a mediation system. They agree to let lawyers who have been specially trained hear their case. Because both sides agree to participate, in the end 95 percent say rulings are fair, McKoski said.

Another avenue which speeds up the court system is an arbitration panel of three lawyers. This is somewhat less successful in rendering perceived fair opinions, as 68 percent of litigants believe it is fair.

The jury or bench trial system with a full-blown trial produces 50-50 fair trial responses.

"In mediation and arbitration, it is less adversarial, and it saves expenses, avoids a lot of animosity and stress," McKoski said.

McKoski has been a judge since 1977. The chief judge in the 19th district is appointed by a seniority system.

Each judge handles about 6,400 cases a year, above the 5,400 state average.

McKoski said each Monday morning the four judges who handle civil matters of over $50,000 meet and there is a cooperation in assigning cases.

McKoski told Gurnee Rotary Club members the allocation of resources is necessary due to the increase in crimes by juveniles and drug-related offenses. Crimes by juveniles are up 30 percent.

The number of inmates in Department of Correction facilities on drug-related offense rose from 681 in 1985 to 8,415 in 1995.

"It is a 12 times increase in the prison population. I am not surprised because the sentences have gotten a lot stricter," McKoski said.

The main way to trim the number of drug-related cases is through prevention, not intervention, he said.

McKoski's appearance at the club meeting was arranged through the speakers bureau of the 19th Judicial Court.

McKoski said he has appeared at many classrooms. Among these included Woodland School and Wauconda High School.

Interplex Co.'s earns ASMMA award

Interplex Co., Lake Villa, was among 17 manufacturers and distributors feted for their company programs at the American Supply and Machinery Manufacturers Association's (ASMMA) newly-expanded

1997 American Eagle Awards program. ASMMA and IDA (Industrial Distribution Assn.) members across the nation annually compete for American Eagle Awards, given to recognize corporate activities that best promote the principles of the American free enterprise system.

Interplex Co.'s Education Program was chosen best among national distributors with less than $5 million in annual sales. They received $500 in scholarship funds to invest in either a student or an educational institution, to help further promoted the progress of free enterprise.

ASMMA chose Interplex Co. for the award, citing the firm's support for extensive technical training and continuing education opportunities for its employees as worthy of recognition.

The company uses a variety of training resources, including on-the-job programs using ISO 9002 procedures and work instructions, as well as more formal classroom programs. They also maintain an exhaustive company library, with a variety of videos, audiotapes and books.

Frank Amato of Ingersoll-Rand Corp. and chairman of the ASMMA Committee on Free Enterprise said that the efforts of firms like Interplex "help create a heightened awareness of the impact of relevant corporate action programs on their communities and on their businesses."

"These success stories are living testimonials to the principles of the American free enterprise system," he added.

BUSINESS CALENDAR

Edward Jones to hold continuing programs

Noah Seidenberg, Grayslake Edward Jones investment representative, will host the third program in the Professional Education Network's 1997 Broadcast Series for accounting and legal professionals. The satellite broadcast, "Tax and Legal Issues Affecting the Older Client," is co-sponsored by the American Bar Assn. General Practice, Solo and Small Firm Section. It will be held Wednesday, June 25 from 1 to 4 p.m.

Guest speakers will include Martin H. Zern, JD, professor at the Lubin School of Business, Dept. of Legal Studies, Taxation and Real Estate, in Pleasantville, NY; Nancy Fax, JD, LL. M., shareholder Wilkes, Artis, Hedrick and Lane in Bethesda, MD; and Kathryn H. Smith, JD, principal at Bergman, Horowitz and Reynolds, PC in New Haven, Conn.

Enrollment fee is $50, which includes admission for one person and all course materials. Reservations are required. For further information, call 223-1908.

Small business owners seminar

An evening seminar on "Retirement Planning for Small Business Owners" will be offered by the Small Business Development Center at the College of Lake County. The session will be held from 7 to 9 p.m., June 25 in room C003 at CLC's Grayslake Campus.

The seminar, conducted by Carol Decelles, a certified financial planner, will cover the different pension plans and savings options available for business owners or the self-employed. She will explain IRA, SEP, 401K, money purchase pension plans, profit sharing and lump-sum pre-retirement plans as well as tax benefits, investments and how to choose the proper retirement plan for business owners and their employees. All participants will receive a financial planning kit and a free consultation.

The fee is $15 per person and $20 for couples. The program was developed in cooperation with the U.S. Small Business Administration and the Illinois Dept. of Commerce and Community Affairs. To register, call 223-3633.

Women Employed plan luncheon

The 24th anniversary luncheon for the Women Employed Institute will be held June 25 at 11:15 a.m. at the Chicago Hilton and Towers, Grand Ballroom.

The keynote speaker will be Elaine R. Jones, director-counsel, NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund and 20th anniversary recognition of Anne Lady, executive director and co-founder of Women Employed. Cost of the luncheon is $65. Call Julia Cuba at (312)782-3902 for reservations.

FRANCHISE: Five myths on buying a business

- Visit and interview existing franchisees. Look for successful owners in markets that approximate your potential trade area. Visit in person all those you can. Find out what the franchising company provides and how cooperative it is. Ask about training. Were there any surprises? Would they do it again knowing what they know now? What changes would they make? Franchisees are an excellent, experienced source of information.

- Visit the corporate office and talk to the staff. You wouldn't buy a house just by driving by, so check out the inside of your first-choice franchisor. Is quality obvious? Are all the staff members friendly and courteous? Are they knowledgeable and forthright in answering your questions? Do they show interest in you, and your needs?

As with any business start, planning and gathering information are important to your success. Armed with a good plan and the right information, your franchise experience can be a positive one.

We're working to protect you—but we need your help!

Our most important goal at Natural Gas Pipeline Company is to safeguard everyone who lives and works along our pipeline route. But as hard as we try, we can't do the job alone. We need your help to spot and report pipeline emergencies so we can react promptly. And we need your cooperation to prevent accidents from happening.

Help prevent pipeline accidents:

- Call BEFORE you dig, drill, blast or doze.
- Watch for our signs at road, railroad and river crossings, at fence lines, ditches and other sites.
- For no-cost location of underground facilities, call the 24-hour "JULIE" number (1-800-892-0123) to reach Joint Utility Locating Information for Excavators. Indicate the county, township and section in which you will be working. Please call two working days in advance.

Signs of a pipeline emergency:

- Hissing or shrill SOUND.
- Unusual BLOWING dirt or dust.
- Persistent BUBBLES in water.
- DYING PLANTS amid healthy ones.
- FIRE or EXPLOSION near pipeline.

To report a pipeline emergency:

- Phone 1-800-733-2490, our toll-free, 24-hour line.

Steps to take in a pipeline emergency:

- Evacuate the area immediately.
- Avoid potential ignition sources.
- Warn others to stay away.
